HOLY LAND ON BRINK OF NEW WAR

Bombing Called 'Amateur Job'

Dynamite Used In Attack

Chief Calls Blast a 'Warning'

Arson experts from the state fire marshal's office late yesterday labeled the Monday morning bombing of the Crescent cafe, 22 South Park street, as "amateurish in appearance," Prosecutor Theodore Lutz said today.

He said the experts estimated that the bomb that injured two policemen and two firemen was made of four or five sticks of dynamite.

Police continued to discount stories that the bomb was placed in the "wrong place" or that the incident was the result of a gaming war.

"We haven't been able thus far to find any indications that the bombing was the work of an 'organization' or connected with gambling interests," Lutz stated.

The prosecutor said there was no evidence that the bomb planter intended the bomb for any place other than the cafe.

PLENTY OF TIME

"In my opinion, the man had plenty of time to work without interference and he was not shouted at by the man who saw him until he had planted the bomb and walked 25 to 30 feet from the scene," Lutz speculated.

Chief Jesse J. Schwab said it is the opinion of the police department that the bomb was not intended to cause injury, but was used as a "warning."

"We had R. J. Matthes, proprietor of the Crescent cafe in for re-questioning today," the chief said, "but he has reiterated that he has no enemies and doesn't know why anyone would bomb his place."

Chief Schwab said all possible leads are being checked but that the possibility that the bombing was the result of a gambling war has "almost been completely ruled out."

Asked if he intended to question any of the known gamblers in the city, Chief Schwab said such a move was "not contemplated at this time."

"I don't see anything so far to indicate that gambling had anything to do with the incident," he said.

Fire Sweeps Oil Tanker

LUDINGTON, Mich.—(U.P.)—The Coast Guard reported today that the oil tanker Edgewater is afire off Point Sable south of Ludington in Lake Michigan.

The Edgewater is owned by the Cleveland Tankers corporation.

The lake steamer House was reported to be standing by to give aid and the Coast Guard cutter Woodbine was dispatched from Grand Haven, Mich., and the cutter Sundew was summoned from Milwaukee.

Commodore James A. Hirshfield of the Cleveland coast guard station headquarters for this area, said the steamer International was only 10 miles from the burning ship and headed for the tanker.

Location of the ship was reported to be 23 miles out of Ludington.

Tumbles 65 Feet, Lives

MASSILLON — (INS) — James Vidinich, 58, appeared none the worse today, despite a 65-foot fall from a Massillon viaduct yesterday into just three feet of water.

Massillon City hospital authorities said Vidinich apparently was uninjured in the fall. He was held for observation, however.

Two passers-by, Victor Verarducci and Emmett Ayres, pulled Vidinich out of the Tuscarawas river where he landed. Police said he had been in ill health in recent months.

Koogle Case Suspects Will Face Grand Jury

CLEVELAND—(AP)—James Buchanan, 24, and Edward (Red) Burrell, 20, last night were bound over to the Cuyahoga county grand jury on first degree murder charges in the April 24 slaying of Mrs. Ilda Koogle, 60, former resident of Plymouth.

Truman's Hopes Run High

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) The drooping balloon of the Eisenhower boom hung low today over the forthcoming Democratic national convention.

President Truman's representatives—highly encouraged by the general's statement — scurried back to Washington for fresh strategy orders.

The expectation was that they would come back to Philadelphia primed to put out the word on Mr. Truman's choice for second place on the ticket—a selection he has delayed while he awaited the latest word from the wartime European commander.

Although Democrats in such widely separated areas as California and New Jersey declined to take Eisenhower's "no" as final, the feeling in this convention city was that it is all over but the shouting.

The shouting may center on various ineffectual efforts to draft Eisenhower and to put Justice William O. Douglas in as a substitute. But party members who arrived early for next week's meeting of the faithful said that only his own action can prevent Mr. Truman from walking off with the nomination on the first ballot.

REFUSE TO QUIT

There was no giving up in the draft-Eisenhower ranks—at least publicly.

Despite the gaping hole their principal had torn in the draft movement, highly placed Democrats continued to speculate about the possibility that the man who says he isn't available couldn't turn down an actual nomination.

James Roosevelt, California state chairman, renewed his call for a Saturday meeting here to pick a candidate to oppose Mr. Truman.

Roosevelt, a son of the late President and one who has not always seen eye to eye with his father's successor, said the party ought to go ahead and nominate Eisenhower as a "national candidate."

Southern Democrats conceded privately that the wind had been taken out of their sails and there was little left to fight over except the platform.

That battle gets under way officially today with the opening of hearings.

Dewey Maps Active Drive

PAWLING, N. Y.—(INS)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey laid plans today for whirlwind cross-country campaign for the presidency.

The Republican candidate indicated that the tour may start in Philadelphia, where he received the nomination. He is delaying final decision on the exact itinerary until GOP leaders return from post-convention vacations.

The tour probably will begin early in September. Dewey will travel by special train across the continent to California and back.

That was his procedure in 1944, when he completed his opening swing from New York to Los Angeles and back in three weeks, devoting the final five weeks to shorter sorties into the Middle West.

Ask Prisoner To Find Body

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Authorities today planned to bring a Pennsylvania prisoner here this week to see if he can point out the grave of a woman on Cleveland's lake front.

Detective Lieutenant David E. Kerr said last night the man, who was not identified, claims he killed a woman here last February and buried her along the shore.

Kerr said the man apparently was telling the truth. He now is a prisoner in the Blawnox workhouse, Allegheny county, Pennsylvania, serving a term for auto theft.

CINCINNATI — (AP) — Mary Meece, 3, was injured fatally last night when she walked into the side of a moving car, police reported.

'Black Lights' For Band on Program

Glattke Heads Tyger Club

In a move to give Mansfield a "big time" high school band in keeping with the city's place on the state scholastic football map, directors of the Tyger Booster club announced today the election of Arthur L. Glattke, superintendent of Ohio State Reformatory, as president of the club.

Glattke, accepting the appointment, announced that plans already were under way for the most intensive membership drive in Tyger club history with the view, as he put it, "to bring Mansfield closer to its youth."

Glattke, a one-time all-Ohio guard at Wittenberg college and former Toledo high school football coach, was elected to head the club several days ago, but announcement was delayed while the new president and directors discussed and tentatively decided upon some of the future phases of the expanded Tyger club program. Several of the projects call for early action so that they will be in readiness when the whistle blows at the opening home football game this fall.

Number one on the list is the purchase of a set of "black light" properties to enable the high school band to perform under the spectacular effects that can be produced in a darkened stadium.

Costumes and other properties made up of brilliantly colored, fluorescent satin and luminous paint are expected to help the band put on half-time entertainment with the "fancy features" that have been lacking in previous years because of the lack of funds.

ARTHUR L. GLATTKE

With "black lighting," cap and instrument lights and raincoats, the band would be equipped second to none, club officials said.

Other programs under discussion are special events to take place at the Tyger Booster club meetings on the Monday nights following each Friday football game. Headline attractions are proposed for each of the Booster nights especially arranged for Tyger club members.

The club plans to institute good fellowship events for athletic teams and their visiting foes and, as a civic appreciation toward the football team it proposes to send the players to a college football game this fall or one of the professional games in Cleveland.

Other plans for the athletic program are still being formulated.

Glattke said that the activity program will be completed soon along with perfection of an organization to make the club's objectives possible. An extensive membership drive, a special gifts campaign and other events are being discussed as a method to raise funds to carry out the programs.

Communists Snub Slavs

Belgrade Congress Bid Turned Down

LONDON —(AP)— Russian communists refused today to participate in a Yugoslav communist Congress because Premier Marshal Tito and his followers have placed themselves "outside the family of Communist parties."

The Soviet news agency Tass and the Moscow radio announced the blunt Russian rejection of the Yugoslav invitation. The Congress is scheduled to open in Belgrade this month.

The announcement seemed to underline the approval Russian communists have given to the cominform's condemnation of Tito and his lieutenants. Apparently the appeal of Yugoslav communists to Prime Minister Stalin, over the head of the cominform, also has failed.

Nor was this the only jolt received by Tito's communists. Tass said Albania has defied Belgrade's warnings that she must resume economic relations with Yugoslavia or face the consequences.

A Tass dispatch from Tirana, capital of Albania, said the Albanians were taking "strong measures" to guard their frontiers adjoining Yugoslavia and Greece against "hostile elements."

Communist-governed Albania has sided with the nine-nation cominform (Communist International Information Bureau) in that organization's dispute with Yugoslav communists.

Last week the tiny country severed trade relations with Yugoslavia and ordered the expulsion of Yugoslav military, political and cultural missions from Albanian soil. Yugoslavia countered with a series of notes to Tirana charging Albanian authorities with insulting Tito's regime.

War Plants Kept Ready

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Three Ohio war plants today were listed for immediate reserve status under a new law authorizing a national source of productive capacity for defense.

The Buckeye facilities were among 17 certified by Secretary of Defense Forrestal yesterday for the reserve pool. Forty-three other plants—six in Ohio—were listed for future transfer to standby status.

13,000 Residents Affected

Post Office to Change Mail Routes July 16

Route and service changes to improve mail delivery to both city and rural residents will go into effect July 16, Curtis L. Ford, acting postmaster, announced today. The changes, which will affect at least 13,000 residents, include the addition of six foot carrier (city) routes, another parcel post route in the city and a mounted carrier route to serve certain heavily populated areas outside the corporate limits of Mansfield.

Twelve additional permanent postal employes have been hired. Seven others have been employed temporarily for the summer months to substitute for regular employes who are on vacation.

At present there are 37 foot carrier routes and four parcel post delivery routes in town, and six rural delivery routes. The new set-up will increase the foot carrier routes to 43, parcel post deliveries to five, and add a mounted carrier route.

See Page 3 For Details Of Mail Route Changes

FIRST MAJOR OVERHAUL

Ford said that this will be the first major overhaul of the city's postal system since the present post office was opened in 1914.

In 1914 Mansfield's population was about 22,000. Now the post office serves between 55,000 and 60,000 persons, and these changes will enable it to keep pace with the growth of the city.

The new operating setup involves extension of delivery service to streets and districts not previously served, and changes in the type of service available to various streets and districts already receiving mail deliveries.

Putting the new schedule into operation makes it necessary to revise all the foot carrier routes and parcel post routes and five of the six rural routes.

The files of the post office contain numerous petitions for further changes in mail delivery service which have not yet been considered by the Post Office department and therefore are not included in this new setup.

The post office cannot submit these petitions to the department until the new setup has been in operation long enough for the new routes to be inspected and approved. After this is done, the petitions on file will be submitted to Washington for consideration.

Patrons are asked not to phone or call at the post office concerning the changes. Such calls will interfere with setting up the new routes and delivery changes, Ford pointed out, adding that information on the changes will be publicized as soon as it is available.

Teachers' Gifts Help Europeans

CLEVELAND —(AP)— American teachers, under their own "professional Marshall plan," have given $274,000 and more than 100,000 books to teachers around the world, it was reported today.

The report was made by Lyle W. Ashby, chairman of the National Education association's committee for overseas teacher relief. Ashby told 3,500 delegates to the NEA's annual convention that the idea first started with Miami, Fla., teachers last summer.

Death Ends Honeymoon

BATAVIA, N. Y. —(U.P.)— A bride returning from her honeymoon was killed last night when a Greyhound bus overturned and burned on a rainswept highway near here. Another passenger was killed and seven injured.

The dead were Mrs. Carol Fredericks Elsheimer, 20, Gasport, N. Y., a bride of two weeks who was returning to Fort Eustis, Va., and Henry Daniel Hulse, Columbus, O. The bus was enroute from Buffalo to New York City.

Among the injured was Mrs. Elsheimer's husband, Sgt. Robert Elsheimer, 21, stationed at Fort Eustis. He told police he dragged his bride from the flaming bus after the crash, but she was dead of a fractured skull.

Hulse was electrocuted, police said, when he touched high tension wires as he clambered out of the bus. The bus had skidded off the road into a power pole, bringing the wires down across the road.

County OK's Annexation

Boulevards Merger Approved By Board

The annexation of South Boulevards to the city of Mansfield received the unanimous approval today of the county commissioners.

Approval by the board came after the county auditor had certified the apportionment of debts of South Boulevards.

City council passed a preliminary ordinance May 4, calling for the annexation, but "subject to being voided by the failure or refusal of city council to accept the apportionment of indebtedness and division of funds of South Boulevards."

With passage of the resolution by the commissioners, the matter goes back to council, which may accept or reject the annexation, depending on whether it wants to assume the obligations of South Boulevards. Indications are that council will approve the annexation. Next regular council meeting is Aug. 3.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe certified to the commissioners that the village has an indebtedness of $6,000 in general sewer obligations.

Attorney George Keyser, who represents the petitioners, said the South Boulevards treasury has approximately $5,000 which would go into the Mansfield treasury.

Only Keyser showed up today for the hearing in the commissioners' office, indicating that no resident of South Boulevards is opposed to the annexation. Keyser said 95 per cent of South Boulevards residents signed the annexation petition.

Tire Prices Going Higher

Mansfield Tire and Rubber company officials announced today that a new, and higher, price list for all tires is being established. Extent of the price increase is expected to be made public within a few days.

The announcement followed announcement of a price boost by U. S. Rubber company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and the B. F. Goodrich company.

Increases are expected to run from 4½ to 7½ per cent.

Affected by he increase were passenger, truck, industrial, farm tires and inner tubes. Spokesmen for the Akron companies blamed higher labor and materials costs for the tire price hike.

Blast Seen as Linked to Gambling Rivalry

Public Takes 'It's-Gone-Too-Far' View of Bombing

Despite official denials that the bombing of the Crescent cafe Monday morning was linked to the resurgence of open gambling in Mansfield, rumors persisted today that the incident had its motive in rivalry for control of the lucrative punchboard distribution business.

While police pursued their investigation, street gossip continued. The most persistent rumor, one which may have some basis of fact as well as conjecture, was that the bomb-planter visited the wrong place.

R. J. Matthes, owner of the Crescent cafe, gave some credence to this version when he asserted: "All I know is that they got the wrong address."

He insisted he "hasn't any enemies" and that no gambling devices had been displayed in his cafe.

For months, gambling circles have buzzed with reports that "Cleveland interests" were planning to open a horse race bet booking establishment in Mansfield. The same interests were reported to be eyeing the punchboard business.

One result of the bombing seemed to have no idle rumor basis. It was that while official and civilian Mansfield until now has taken an "I don't care" attitude toward gambling, public reaction now may be so vociferous as to spur action.

Persons who last week winked their eyes at open displays of gaming devices today were insisting, "this has gone too far."

As long as no one was being hurt by the gambling rivalry except those directly involved, they said, it was all right but when four policemen and firemen in performance of their duty were injured it was quite a different story.

"Let's clean house and run the gamblers out of town before other people get hurt," was an often-repeated comment.

$1,000 Dog Undesirable As Tenant

ZANESVILLE—(AP)—Babe — A pert Pomeranian—was the center of an anti-pet issue today which threatened to evict her and her master from a federal housing development.

It happens that Babe—valued at more than a thousand dollars by her master, Theodore M. Harsch—is regarded an undesirable tenant of Coopermill manor, the development.

Director Herman F. McAllister said it's government orders barring dogs and cats from the housing project. The rule, McAllister explained, is an old one which has not been enforced lately, but which he intends to make effective. Harsch indicated he will fight the order.

New City Sanitation Plan Bared

Would Coordinate Three Departments

The possibility of the creation of a city sanitation department to coordinate the operations of the water, sewer, and garbage departments was disclosed last night during a city council controversy over creation of the post of superintendent of the sanitary sewage system.

As suggested by Mayor Roy W. Vaughn, the new department would be headed by Sanitary Engineer B. V. BeVier. O. C. Kalbfleisch would continue as water superintendent and Al Strachan as garbage superintendent but a third person would be named to the three-branch sanitation department.

At present the water and garbage departments are directly under supervision of the service-safety director and the sewer operations are controlled by the street and sewer departments.

The controversy arose when a bill to create a superintendent of the sanitary sewer system at a salary of $2,500 was introduced under the sponsorship of Councilmen George Kyle. The bill at first was tabled because of technical conflicts with the existing salary ordinance for that department.

REINTRODUCED

After council had dispensed with the regular order of business, Kyle asked that the measure be re-introduced.

"I've seen expensive sewer cleaning equipment standing idle and being rusted by the elements," he said. "Let's get a superintendent in charge and get things done."

Council then agreed to reconsider the measure, with Councilman Charles N. Shultz voting "nay." He said he favored the creation of the post, but insisted that the ordinance as read was incorrect.

Mayor Vaughn explained that the present salary ordinance in the sewer department needed revamping and suggested the creation of the sanitation department.

With that explanation, Kyle withdrew his motion for re-consideration, and council indicated it would study a possible revision of city departments.

Council did approve an ordinance authorizing the hiring of an additional mason in the street department. BeVier has explained that he is needed to construct new manholes.

Rolling Jail Will Begin Tour of Ohio

COLUMBUS —(AP)— A "jail on wheels," complete with a genuine electric chair, starts an Ohio tour here tomorrow.

The Buckeye State Sheriffs' association is bringing the crime-prevention unit to Ohio to show children how law enforcement agencies track down criminals, and what happens to law violators after they are arrested.

The display, said William McElroy, association executive secretary, is part of a program to prevent or reduce juvenile delinquency.

The "jail" includes, in addition to the electric chair, a complete jail cell and crime-fighting equipment found only in FBI and police crime laboratories.

It will be exhibited at Broad and High streets, in the heart of downtown Columbus, for three days, starting tomorrow. It will visit other cities after its stay here, McElroy said. The itinerary was not announced.

FUNERAL SET THURSDAY

HAMILTON — (AP) — Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Frank N. Fritsch, 83, inventor of the mop bucket with a mop-wringer attached. He died Monday night.

Extension Of Truce In Doubt

U. N. Mediator Still Trying

(Compiled from Wire Services)

CAIRO—Time was running out on the Palestine truce today, and already heavy Arab-Jewish fighting had developed along the main Tel Aviv-Haifa highway.

Tension mounted steadily in the Holy Land while replies were awaited from both sides to a proposed truce extension.

Conflicting reports came from the capitals concerned as Count Folke Bernadotte of Sweden, U. N. mediator, continued to shuttle between Arab and Jewish leaders seeking some solution in the waning hours before the truce ends at 1 a. m. (EST) Friday.

Bernadotte conferred for 80 minutes with the Arab league's liaison committee here, and then flew to Tel Aviv, capital of the Jewish state of Israel.

He announced before his departure that the Arab reply to his proposals for extension of the truce and for demilitarization of Jerusalem and Haifa will be released at Rhodes at noon tomorrow (7 a. m. EST).

ISSUE CONFUSED

This was the setting in which the mediator was working:

1. Reliable quarters in Amman, capital of King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, circulated reports that the Arabs would agree reluctantly to extension of the truce. This probably would be followed by mass resignations of cabinets in the Arab league states, it was said.

These resignations would be not only a protest against the proposals, but also would enable appointment o fnew cabinets which would be free to discuss a peaceful settlement of the whole Palestine problem.

2. Arab reports here in Cairo, where the Arab league was meeting, said that the truce proposal would be rejected, and that fighting would be resumed.

3. Tel Aviv reported that the Jewish forces were girding for battle in the belief that fighting certainly would be resumed at expiration of the present 28-day truce.

A pitched battle was reported between Arab and Jewish units around Tireh. A United Nations truce observer was killed in a mine explosion. A U. S. Marine corps private was fired upon.

4. Lake Success reports indicated Russia's U. N. Delegate Andrei Gromyke would attack the whole U. N. mediation machinery at a meeting of the security council today.

The Amman report that Arabs might accept an extension of the truce was the first hopeful one to come from Arab sources, which have been united in making warlike statements that Bernadotte's proposals were entirely unacceptable and fighting must be resumed.

Reds Reveal Berlin Plan

BERLIN—(AP)—The communists announced today a two-year plan to tie Berlin economically to the Soviet occupation zone of Germany. They warned Berliners not to pin their hopes for the future on the western air bridge over the Soviet blockade.

The communists also announced they are drawing up a constitution for a German republic—their answer to the projected western Germany constitutional assembly.

At the same time the U. S. Air Force attacked the growing fuel shortage in blockaded western Berlin, which in 19 days has cut factory operations 40 per cent.

The first "flying coalman" winged into Berlin shortly after noon with 110 bags of coal. The Americans began the operation in the face of a veiled Russian warning on the safety of their air bridge planes.

LABOR LEADER'S WIFE ILL

NEWARK —(AP)— Mrs. Jennie Green, 77, wife of AFL President William Green, was reported in fair condition in Newark city hospital today. Mrs. Green, being treated for a kidney ailment, was brought here from Coshocton, where she lives.

FDR's Financial Deals Failed To Draw Protest From Backers

NEW YORK—I have been trying to imagine what the old disorganized New Dealers would say if it were possible to declare flatly today that Tom Dewey at some past time received a secret gift of $100,000 from, say, Winthrop Aldrich, of the Chase National bank, and other gifts up to about a quarter of a million from other rich men.

Not loans, but outright gifts. They would call him a subsidized candidate of the special interests—a term that never loses its power of insinuation, although I never have been sure of its power of persuasion—and impugn his honesty and his manhood in a terrible to-do.

Me, too. I would burn him down.

But I simply do not know how to explain why the New Dealers and millions of ordinary voters, too, never have thought that it was wrong of Roosevelt not merely to accept but to solicit such a gift from John J. Raskob in 1928.

He solicited this gift of money as the price of his consent to come out of his convalescence at Warm Springs, Ga., and run for governor of New York. And he never paid a dollar back.

★

Al Smith and Raskob, an industrial millionaire who opposed prohibition, wanted Roosevelt to help carry New York for Smith for President. Raskob says his only interest was repeal. Roosevelt had no worth-while political record at the time but he had that name which previously in politics had been a Republican leader, and Smith and Raskob figured that he could win.

I think I was the first to tell you about this, back in 1944, when Roosevelt was still alive. He could have answered if he had the answer, but in a case like that you slip her in gear and drive on. That is what he did. He knew the people were so nuts about him that they either wouldn't believe it or wouldn't care.

Roosevelt said he was in for $250,000 on his project at Warm Springs but the truth was that it was the dough of his mother, who could give Harold Ickes himself lessons in tight-fistedness.

Roosevelt told Raskob he was on the hook for $250,000, and Raskob said he would underwrite it all himself, and he put in the mail that very night a check for the whole amount

After he was nominated, Roosevelt told Raskob he shouldn't take the fall alone and gave the check back.

Then the boys got up a dinner and Raskob subscribed $50,000 in his own account and $50,000 on behalf of his children, who were politically immature and couldn't defend themselves from this kind of thing.

Willie Woodin was in on this tin-cup testimonial and dropped his donation with a muffled clank, and Barney Baruch came in for a touch, $50,000. I have reason to believe Raskob, who had the habit by now, showered down another check for $50,000.

★

It was an imaginary debt, by the way, because Roosevelt was due to get the estate left to his mother in trust by his father. And when his mother died, he did get it. In other words, when his mother died, he got the dough which Raskob, Woodin, Baruch and the rest had given him to pay back his mother.

Posterity, there he is—the fellow who ran the money-changers out of the temple. Maybe you can figure him out.

City Seeks To Reduce Speed Limit

25-Mile Maximum Asked By Council

City council took steps last night to reduce the speed limit on Mansfield streets used by buses from 35 to 25 miles an hour.

Council passed a resolution asking the state to order the speed reduction on mapor thoroughfares traveled by buses of Mansfield Rapid Transit, Inc.

Under state law, City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch explained, any street which is used by a bus automatically is placed in a 35-mile-an-hour zone. However, the state highway director has authority to reduce the speed limit on streets, other than state highways, if petitioned to do so.

The resolution states that "streets in the residential area are too narrow to permit a 35-mile limit." One of the major thoroughfares where speeding is a problem is Marion avenue, used by the Glessner avenue line buses.

STRREET JOBS OK'D

Council approved ordinances determining to proceed with the resurfacing of South Diamond street between Hedges street and Woodville road and paving of Grant street between Chester and Longview avenues.

An ordinance providing for the borrowing of $6,000 in anticipation of the issuance of bonds and colelction of assessments on the South Diamond street project was approved, as was a measure providing for the issuance of $18,000 in notes in anticipation of the collection of assessments on the Grant street work.

The city engineer was requested to prepare plans and estimates for improving the following streets by paving or resurfacing:

Wellington avenue from Park avenue west to the south end of Wellington avenue.

Pinecrest from Park avenue west to the intersection of Wellington avenue.

North Diamond street from the Erie railroad to the north boundary line of Surry road.

Buses, Autos Suffer Dents

Two Greyhound buses and two private cars were dented last night when brakes refused to hold on a bus entering North Franklin avenue from the bus station.

Police said the mishap occurred as the two buses left the station. Officers said no passengers were injured and that damage to the vehicles was slight.

The lead bus, driven by Leo L. Huston of Xenia, stopped while attempting a right turn into Franklin because Huston said he saw he couldn't make the turn without hitting a parked car on the east side of North Franklin.

Beverly J. Funk jr., of Cleveland, driving the trailing bus, said he applied his brakes but they didn't hold and that his bus bumped into the rear of Huston's bus.

Police said Huston's bus then glanced off the rear of the parked car and into another parked car owned by Robert Broillier, 221 Marlowe road. Owner of the first parked car was not identified.

Trailer Camp Ban Sought

Petitioners Take Request to Council

A petition signed by 75 residents of Dale avenue asking that trailer camps be prohibited within the city limits was referred to City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch last night at a meeting of city council.

Don Vnasdale, 151 Dale avenue, told council that a trailer camp was being erected at Hedges street and Dale avenue.

He said the residents feel that with the housing shortage, they do not object to the persons living in the trailers, but when the housing shortage is over, they feared undesirable persons would move into the camp.

Council would have to pass a special law prohibiting such trailers. There is no building code on the city's books regulating the erection of trailer camps.

At the same time council heard a letter from J. M. Cousins, who operates a trailer camp on Jefferson street, which requested council to extend the Jefferson street sewer to allow him to tie in with the city system and bring sanitary conditions up to the proper standards.

Toastmasters Name Coup

Acting officers of the Mansfield Toastmasters club were elected at an organizational meeting last night in the Mansfield YMCA, Maurice W. Taylor, YMCA general secretary, announced today.

Selected to serve as acting club chairman and secretary were Charles F. Coup and S. S. Rice, respectively, who will officiate during the new club's organizational stage.

V. N. Blinn, district governor of Toastmasters International, described the club program and outlined the services of the International club in assisting new groups in developing an effective speech training program.

The new members will be given a demonstration club July 19 at 7:30 p. m. in the YMCA.

Mansfielders interested in learning confidence and bearing in public speaking are invited to attend the next meeting at the YMCA July 12 at 7:30 p. m., Taylor said. Club membership will be limited to 30 men and charter memberships are still available.

City Will Try Open Market

City council last night authorized the service-safety director to purchase in the open market equipment necessary for the installation of a motor and blower at the sewage treatment plant. Bids have been advertised three times, but the offers proved unsatisfactory each time.

Council also approved a supplemental appropriation of $3,600 for the repairs of a trunk sewer at Vennum avenue, a trunk sewer at Midland drive, and new contruction at Wolfe avenue, Superior street and Davis road.

A resolution instructing the city engineer to prepare plans and estimates for the construction of a sanitary sewer on Lexington avenue from Chevy Chase to Stewart Lane also was approved.

Sheriff Questions 'Robbery' Victim

A Canton man was held in county jail today for investigation after he was picked up at 5:30 a. m. at a McElroy road farm house where he asked for lodging.

Sheriff's deputies said they found the man lying in the yard without shoes. The Canton resident told deputies he had been taken for a "ride" and robbed.

Children Swarm Pool For Swim Lessons

By NITA BRANSON

It was a toss-up yesterday at Liberty park pool whether the kiddies or their mothers got the most fun out of the opening Red Cross swimming classes.

Hundreds of Mansfield youngsters and their mothers began filing into the pool's locker rooms at 8 a. m., and continued to arrive in a steady stream all morning.

"It's the largest registration we've ever had, and we have to handle the children in the smallest pool we've used," said Gerald Coron, Red Cross water safety director.

"Because of the cramped space, there'll be little chance for individual instruction, although in an hour's time yesterday many of the children had already learned to duck their heads and lose their fear of water," he said.

"By Thursday, I'll be at the pool helping along the laggards and giving them as much attention as possible. By the time the season ends Aug. 30, I'm sure every child will have learned to swim."

DOZENS LINE POOL

The pool at Liberty park was bright blue and clear as only clean, fresh water can be. The first "duck' into the pool was a little .cold, but soon the youngsters were frisking and splashing under the supervision of the instructors. Dozens at a time were lined along the pool's edge, ranging all the way from four and five-year-olds to teen-agers.

Little girls danced around, their diminutive bathing suits dripping water, and brown-skinned little boys strutting importantly in their brief trunks, aping Joe Damoff, one of the instructors.

All the hundreds who are taking beginners' instruction may not learn to become expert swimmers this summer, but at least they'll learn to keep afloat.

"And it's the first step in doing away with so much of the tragic drownings that always accompany the swimming season," Coron said.

Assisting in the instruction, are Mrs. H. D. Osmond, Mrs. Dorothy Monroe, Miss Sally Ashbaugh and Miss Patricia Hieber.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Robert L. Ross, Mansfield attorney and recently appointed assistant in the county prosecutor's office, will celebrate his birthday quietly tonight with the immediate members of his family at home.

Ross, who lives at 480 Clifton boulevard, is a comparative newcomer to Mansfield. He was born in California and came east to attend law school at Western Reserve university in Cleveland. After graduation he practiced in Cleveland, but didn't like big-city life. He had friends in Mansfield, and two years ago he decided it was the type of place where he wanted to raise his family. So he moved his wife and two children here and plans to "stay put" for the rest of his life.

Another dinner tonight will mark the 81st birthday of Mrs. Clara Troupe, 944 Benedict avenue. Mrs. Troupe, widow of John Troupe, hack driver in Mansfield many years ago, is making her home with her granddaughter, Mrs. Andrew Hiler, at the Benedict avenue address.

HERE'S THE WHY—

Dolly Young, business manager of the Royal Crown shows being sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans at the Blue Goose field, explained today that an auto breakdown was responsible for the delay in the fireworks display Monday night. Ohio law requires that a factory representative supervise all fireworks displays. The one assigned to Mansfield, Miss Young said, failed to arrive until 11:15 due to car trouble. At that late hour, the show management agreed to withhold the noise-making bombs, salute and finale at the request of Madison hospital officials, she said. During the evening, explanations were broadcast to the crowd of nearly 7,000 on the grounds, she said. News carriers will be guests at the carnival tomorrow night and a kiddie matinee will be held Saturday.

Council Sets Up Street Funds

A record city budget totaling $825,803 was approved by city council last night and ordered submitted to the county budget commission for inspection.

Just before it was passed, the budget, including the police and fire pension and public recreation levies, was amended upwards by $100,000, to provide for the construction of new, and the repairing of existing, city streets.

The estimated amount needed to cover expenditures in city departments drawing their revenues from local taxes is $249,000 greater than the amount requested in the budget passed last July and about $110,000 greater than the 1948 appropriation bill and supplemental appropriations made this year.

City expenditures in the general fund and recreation departments will be about $100,000 greater next year than they were this year—if the budget commission approves the requests.

MILLER ASKS FUNDS

The $100,000 was added to the budget resolution at the request of Councilman Fred Miller, chairman of the street committee.

Streets which will be included in the 1949 street improvement program include West Sixth street, South Adams street, Maple street, Orange street and Park avenue west, which is scheduled for widening.

Miller said that part of the $100,000 would be earmarked for purchase of the right-of-way to extend East Fifth street to Ashland road to permit the establishment of a one-way traffic system in Mansfield as suggested by Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals and seconded by Cleveland's Traffic engineer Vurnon Johnson.

The budget commission now will study the budget, make any necessary revisions, and return it to the city. The amount requested approximates the maximum funds that will be available and the commission is not expected to make any major changes, city spokesmen said.

Viaduct Floor Due

The long-overdue shipment of treated wood planking needed for the floor of the South Mulberry street viaduct is due to arrive today or tomorrow, Street Supt. E. W. Davis said today.

"We hope to be able to finish the job and open the bridge for traffic 15 days after the wood arrives," he said.

A contract for the supplying of approximately 2,000 pieces of processed wood was entered into by the city with the Baker Wood Preserving company, Marion, on March 17.

The contract stipulated [illegible] day delivery, or before May 17. However, the Marion firm failed to deliver the wood as scheduled and did not make shipment until July 2.

The bridge has been closed nearly three months. Repair work was completed over a month ago but the reopening has been delayed by the slow shipment.

City Solicitor C. J. Kalbfleisch said the city would not collect damages because the company did not deliver before the day promised.

"The only thing the 60-day clause does is to allow us to seek the material elsewhere if we desire," he said.

Tax Receipts Show Increase

Richland county's tax payments picked up yesterday after a noticeable slump during the past few days, County Treasurer Charles C. Payne announced today.

The pick-up in second-half 1947 taxes yesterday brought in $16,127, hiking the total paid so far to $372,516.

With more than $829,500 to be paid toward the $1,200,000 total by the July 20 deadline, Payne urged that property owners pay their taxes by check and send them through the mail to avoid the last minute jam at the office.

Children Draw Praise In Theater Production

By MARGUERITE MILLER

A new high in correlating the arts was reached last night in Mansfield's Children's Theater when delightful ballet sequences were introduced throughout the 11th season opener, "The Sleeping Beauty."

Many of the some 150 persons who attended the performance in South park pavilion declared the production "the tops" in Children's Theater work to date. The finished product was turned out by Harold McCuen, founder and director of the theater, and by Mrs. Ethlyn Battin, choregraphy director.

"Sleeping Beauty," with a new cast, will be repeated at 8 p. m. today in the pavilion.

Responsible for much of the color of the production were graceful Peggy Bayer as Fairy Bonvolia an dthe little fairy chorus composed of Barbara Kann, Ann Lusignan, Ann Slabaugh and Linda Kay Hattman, all dressed in pastel tulle and satin costumes.

Acting honors were shared by the principals — Bill Schettler as the king, Patsy Edmonstone as the queen, Joan Horsman as the princess (Sleeping Beauty), Hugh Maxwell as Peter, the squire, and Ronald Smih as the prince.

Sammie Kay Matthes as the wicked fairy Mavolia, who cursed the princess, was one of the outstanding character players in the production.

Others in the cast were Ruth Sweet as Lady May, Carolyn Teeter as Lady Bet, Betty Weir as Lady Sal, Noel Huston as Lady Priscilla, and Nancy Smaltz as the mistress of the ink bottle.

Also adding to the success of last night's production, was the use of "curtain raisers," given by five-and-six-year-olds, youngest of the theater group. The plays, "Snow White and Rose Red" and "Three Billy Goats Gruff" were under the direction of Marilyn Gernhardt and Mary Jo Hunter.

39-Year-Old Hurler Inks Tribe Pact

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige, 39-year-old top-flight Negro pitcher of 20 years standing, today was signed by the Cleveland Indians, President Bill Veeck announced.

Terms of the deal in which the venerable hurler moves up from the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro National league were not disclosed. But Paige admits he will make more money with the Indians.

SIXTH NEGRO

He becomes the sixth Negro player to sign a major league contract. The four now playing the two major circuits include Larry Doby, also of the Indians, and Jackie Robinson and Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The long, lanky hurler underwent a secret test at the Stadium yesterday, pitching against Manager Lou Boudreau before the contract was inked.

STILL HAS PLENTY

"He still has plenty and should make us a 'good 'relief pitcher, Boudreau said. Paige, he added, will be in uniform tonight when the league leading Indians meet the Chicago White Sox.

The veteran hurler said he was certain he could pitch effectively in the majors. "Plate's the same size," he said.

To make room for Paige, the Indians will have to option or drop another player.

The fabulous Paige, whose age is as much a mystery as the number of games he has won in his 20-year career all over the continent, at one time carned an estimated $40,000 per year, but probably was drawing much less when signed today.

Paige, however, said he would be "about 40 years old pretty soon now." He said he was confident he could pitch effectively in the majors.

Veeck and Boudreau reported Paige threw about 50 pitches to the boy manager at the stadium yesterday "and only about three of them were wide of the plate."

SHOWED PLENTY

"He showed me plenty," Boudreau said. "It was the first time I had ever seen him, and now I can believe some of the tall stories they tell about his pitching." Boudreau, however, hit a few line drives in the secret workout.

When asked his age in Veeck's office, the six-foot, three-inch Negro, who weighs in at 180, said "I was born in Mobile Sept. 18. 1908." Other records list his birth date as Sept. 22.

The languid Negro star refused to draw comparisons between Negro baseball and the major league brand.

THE SAME SIZE

"Home plate's the same size, I figure," he said. "You find out the best place to throw it, then let it go. I found out it is best to pitch high, across the letters, to most white batters."

Bob Feller, the Indian fireballer who has faced Paige in exhibition games, said "he probably won't be able to pitch nine innings very often, but for a few innings he's as good as anybody I ever saw."

It was believed that the Indians would drop either Ray Murray or Hal Peck before tonight's game with Chicago to keep the roster at 25.

Ohio Sports Center Trounces Greystone

Ohio Sports Center pulled its season record to the .500 mark and moved into a tie for second place in the Independent softball league by trimming Greystone, 8-0, under the lights of Gorman-Rupp field last night.

It was Sports Center's third victory against a like number of defeats and brought Greystone to a 2-2 record. Komito's Clothes, undefeated in three starts, leads the league.

The veteran Dale McKinley held Greystone to two hits while his mates collected nine off a pair of Greystone hurlers.

Penn Auto defeated American Legion Post 72, 9-5, in the other Independent league game. Catcher Gene Miller had four for five for Penn.

Ohio Brass defeated Westinghouse, 10-9, in a Girls league game, the only one scheduled this week. Ohio Brass is undefeated. In a postponed Church league game, First Congregational whipped First Presbyterian, 11-4.

Gorman-Rupp Opens Second Half Season

Mansfield Gorman - Rupp will make its first bid for the second half North Central Ohio league pennant tonight when it goes to Marion for a game with the tough Smitty's Grill softballers.

Smitty's finished in second position behind Gorman-Rupp in the first half race and is expected to be the major barrier in the Mansfielder's drive to sweep both ends of the split season.

Gorman-Rupp Manager Nick Weber has not announced his pitching choice for tonight's game although it was assumed that "Stretch" Regula would take his regular turn on the mound. He and his brother, Bobby, have allowed seven hits in the last six games.

Gorman-Rupp won the first half with a record of nine victories and no defeats.

"A" Golfers Set Record

Blonston, Zeides Go 8 Extra Holes

Ed Blonston and Pete Zeides set a new marathon record for the News-Journal A league yesterday as they went eight extra holes in the opening matches of the second half season.

The pair played seven extra holes at even par figures, but on the eighth Zeides missed his putt for a bogey and Blonston canned his to stay at par. Zeides had shot a 40 and Blonston a 41 in the regular match.

Average scores for the round were a little higher than usual as Pete Thoma, Ray Malaska and Charles Snyder set the pace with one-over-par 37's. Al Hager, George Zimmerman and Harold Bogner fired 38's.

Smokehouse, which jumped from last place to first in the final two weeks of the first round, settled back into the league basement by winning only one match.

Grays To Be Host To House of David

The Mansfield Grays will be host to one of the most famous semi-pro teams in the country tomorrow night when the famed and bearded House of David nine comes here for an exhibition.

The House of David team will bring its own portable lighting system which will be mounted on trucks around Blue Goose field. Game time has been set for 8:30 p. m., the first night baseball game here in many years.

The team itself is composed of former minor league and college players who, supposedly because of their religion, will not cut their hair or beards. All of the players wear full - grown beards while many have long, flowing hair.

House of David last appeared here in 1937 against the old Westinghouse team.

The team is famous not only for its long beards and top brand of baseball, but for the show put on both before and during the game.

Grays' Business Manager John Heckert said today that he expected a record crowd for tomorrow night's game, which should be the top attraction here this year.

Stella Walsh May Retire

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. —(AP)— Stella Walsh, leather-tough track veteran of more than a score of years talked retirement today after outshining the cream of the nation's women athletes in yesterday's national women's AAU track meet.

"I'll probably retire from track this summer or fall," said the lean and lanky star of the Polish woman's AC Cleveland, after a rousing triple-victory performance that was good for firsts in the broad jump, the 100-meter and the 200-meter runs.

Miss Walsh, who is ineligible for Olympic competition because she competed for her native Poland in the 1936 games, said she would turn her attention to golf.

NEW LINE COACH

TOLEDO —(INS)— James DeAngelis, 35, former head coach of freshman football at Yale, will take over as line coach at Toledo university when practice opens in the fall.

HONOLULU—Maxie Docusen, 132¾, New Orleans, outpointed Richie Shinn, 134¾, San Francisco, 10.

Hilborns Top Doubles Loop

Art and Hazel Hilborn walked off with every conceivable honor save one in the Mixed doubles bowling league at the Colony alleys last night.

Only department in which the pair missed was the high single series, taken by E. McIntire with 203-193-202—598. The Hilborn's won the high team single game, a 378 and the high team series, 378-346-348—1072. Art Hilborn had the best single game, a 213.

Camp Perry Rifle Shoot Cancelled This Season

CAMP PERRY —(INS)— Camp Perry's famed national rifle matches won't be held this year.

An official of the National Rifle association explained in Washington that the armed forces, which have supplied personnel to conduct the matches, have no money for the purpose this year.

Fighting Athletics Close Gap

By JOE REICHLER
(AP Sports Writer)

It can't be denied that hustle, fight and team spirit have been great factors in the amazing Philadelphia Athletics' surprising bid for the American league flag. But another reason not generally recognized, has been the clutch hitting of shortstop Eddie Joost and the steady pitching of southpaw Lou Brissie.

The bespectacled infielder and the rookie southpaw combined their talents last night to lead the A's to a 5-3 victory over the Senators in Washington, which advanced the Mackmen to within 10 percentage points of first place. Philadelphia's victory coupled with Detroit's 9-0 triumph over the pace-setting Cleveland Indians, left the A's and Indians virtually deadlocked. However, the Indians have lost fewer games and lead .618 to .608.

Eddie Joost

Joost drove in two important runs, one with a home run which opened the game. It marked the fourth time this season that the deft leadoff hitter had opened a game with a home run.

Brissie, the much decorated war veteran, who pitches with a brace on his wounded left leg, was tagged for 11 hits, but struck out nine and pitched out of several tight spots to record his eighth victory. And he now leads all American league pitchers in the strikeout department with 77 whiffs to his credit.

The Red Sox made in three in a row over the Yankees by defeating the New Yorkers 2-1 in a night game t Boston. Ted Williams emerged from his brief batting slump by banging out three hits in four times at bat. The victory moved the fourth place Red Sox up to within six games of the pace-setting Indians and A's. The thirdd place Yankees are still two and a half games off the pace.

Dizzy Trout humbled the Indians with six hits in pitching a 9-0 shutout for the Tigers in a night game in Cleveland.

Paul Lehner's eighth inning single scored Al Zarilla with the winning run as the seventh place St. Louis Browns edged out the White Sox 7-6 in a night game in Chicago.

The National leading Boston Braves gained a game on the rest of the first division by defeating the fourth place Giants at New York, 4-3, while the second place St. Louis Cardinals and third place Pittsburgh Pirates were beaten.

Ted Kluszewski clouted a double with two out and the bases loaded in the top of the ninth to drive in two runs and give the Cincinnati Reds a 6-4 victory over the Pirates in a night game in Pittsburgh.

Ed Waitkus scored on a wild pitch and Bill Nicholson hammered his 10th home run in the eighth inning to give the Chicago Cubs a 12-10 victory over the Cards in a night game in St. Louis. The Cards had pulled up to a 10-10 tie after once trailing 10-3. Stan Musial smacked three hits in five times at bat to boost his batting average to a gaudy .414.

Hank Behrman pitched his first victory of the season for Brooklyn shutting out the Phils 5-0 in a night game in Philadelphia.

Catcher Andy Seminick of the Phils and outfielder Gene Hermanski of the Dodgers were ejected for fighting in the first inning.

Two Indians on All-Stars

Ken Keltner Ignored By Fans Vote

CHICAGO —. (UP) — The top sluggers from both the American and National league will mainstay their all-star nines in the 15th annual inter-league clash at St. Louis July 13, final tabulations of the popular vote to pick the starting line-ups showed today.

WILLIAMS TOPS

Ted Williams, the Boston Red Sox outfielder who is tops in the American circuit with a .386 batting average was the best vote-getter in the poll, in which a record-breaking total of 4,107,893 fans cast a ballot through their local newspapers.

Williams polled 1,556,784 votes, just edging out Stan Musial, the St Louis Cardinals' heavy hitter.

CHICAGO —(UP)— Cleveland players finished in the following positions in the All-Star polling: Ken Keltner, second; Eddie Robinson, third; and Jim Hegan, Larry Doby and Dale Mitchell, fifth. Mitchell was placed in left field and Doby in center.

Keltner will be a member of the squad.

Musial, now hitting an astronomical .410, finished second in total votes with 1,532,502.

The starters, according to the rules of the game, must remain on the field for the first three innings. Then the managers, this year Bucky Harris of New York for the American, and Lippy Leo Durocher of Brooklyn for the National, can make whatever substitutions they wish.

OTHER RESTRICTIONS

Other restrictions provide that the pitchers can work no more than three innings. However, pitchers were not selected by the fans. They will be picked by the managers.

The starting lineups favored by the fans were.

FANS SATISFIED

American league fans were largely satisfied with the club which brought the junior circuit a 2 to 1 victory over the National league last year. Only one change was made from the 1947 American league starters, Mullin replacing the retired Buddy Lewis in right field.

The National league revamped the starting lineup with five changes. The new faces were Stanky, Pafko, Reese, Ashburn, a rookie, and Musial

Only four of the 16 major league teams failed to place at least one man on the starting 18 They were Pittsburgh and Cincinnati in the National league and Washington and St. Louis in the American.

TRIBE FANS UNHAPPY—Although nothing has been heard as yet there no doubt will be a long wail from Cleveland fans about Ken Keltner's not being named to the all-star team. Keltner is one Indian who never hears the fans' boos.

Two Teams Still Unbeaten In Hot Stove Major League

Zitzer's and Ohio Sports Center maintained their undefeated records in the Hot Stove major league as they chalked up victories yesterday.

Lefty Dave Marks was the star of the night as he tossed a no-hit game for Ohio Sports Center to help lead them to a 2 to 1 victory over Yunckers It was the Sports Center's second victory.

Zitzer's won its third game by forfeit over Sons of Herman Umpire Waldon Marshall called the game in the fifth inning after Sons of Herman protested violently on a decision.

The Eagles and Elks won Junior league games. The Eagles scored 14 times in the first five innings to wallop the Marine Corps, 14 to 3, while the Odd Fellows blasted the Elks, 13-7. Ken Woerth led the Elks with two doubles.

Slipping Tribe Loses Again

troit Tigers coasted to a 9-0 victory for a 2-1 series edge.

TROUT STARS

Dizzy Trout handcuffed the Redskins with six scattered bingles and added assault to insult by blasting a towering home run into the upper deck of the left field stands for the only tally he needed. Vic Wertz rapped a three-run circuit clout in the fourth and the Tigers sewed up the game with another trio in the fifth.

A total of 41,655 fans paid their way into the stadium to see the lop-sided contest, boosting the Indians' season home attendance to 1,084,130, top figure in the major leagues

Bob Muncrief was battered from the mound for the second consecutive time as Cleveland's first-place margin was shaved to 10 percentage points over the amazing Philadelphia Athletics Muncrief, relieved by Steve Gromek and Don Black, was charged with his second loss against five triumphs

Gromek was the Tribe's only effective hurler, blanking the Tigers for 2 2-3 innings before Black yielded three more Detroit runs in the eighth and ninth.

FELLER TONIGHT

The Indians' pennant hopes received a jolt when First Baseman Eddie Robinson was sidelined last night with a knee injury The husky infielder, who snapped out of his batting slump with a base-hit barrage over the week-end, may be out of action several days

Bob Feller will aim for his ninth victory against nine losses against Chicago tonight, with Bill Wight or Joe Haynes hurling for the Sox.

2 Unbeaten Teams See Some Action

Two of Mansfield's five undefeated softball teams will see action in tonight's five game card.

Farm Tools and Park Avenue Baptist are the unbeaten aggregations. The former team battles a much-improved Cole's Tool and Dye club in an Independent league battle at Liberty park, while the Baptists meet B'nai B'rith in a Church loop tilt at Johns park.

The Toolmen have the city's best record—seven straight—while the Baptists have copped five in a row.

One night game is on the list as Dominion Electric goes against Ideal Electric at Gorman-Rupp field at 9 30 p. m The other Independent loop encounter pits Mansfield Tire against the Telephone company at North Lake park.

Rounding out the program, Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion Post 16 collide at Prospect park. VFW leads the Club league with five wins in six games and defeated the Legion in the first round, 6 to 1.

Rockets Buy Two Backs From Yanks

CHICAGO —(INS)— The Chicago Rockets have snagged not one, but two power-packed fullbacks from the New York Yankees of the All-America football conference

Coming to the Rockets in a straight cash deal are Eddie Prokop, All-American at Georgia Tech in 1943, and Dewey Proctor, who was All-Southern choice at Furman in 1942 and later a star at Great Lakes.

Mansfielders May Be Shut Out Of Columbus Open Tourney

With the start of the Columbus Open less than two days away, it was still uncertain today whether any Mansfield golfers would be allowed to compete.

Dale Rose, who was listed as second alternate in the qualifier, was told by tournament Manager John Buchanan yesterday that he would be notified whether or not to come. He had received no word at noon today.

★

Joe Mayer, pro at the Cook road driving range was in Columbus today, inquiring about his eligibility. Mayer may not be allowed to play because he has not yet become a member of the PGA.

★

COLUMBUS —(INS)— The fairways and greens of the Wyandot golf course were jammed today with most of the 100 expected entrants in the $10,000 Columbus invitational golf tournament getting in some practice licks.

The tourney begins with a golfing clinic and demonstration tomorrow.

Competitive play begins Friday in the three-day 72-hole test

Some last minute grass-cutting was in prospect after several of the pros registered strong protests concerning the length of the foliage on the aprons of the greens.

Par at Wyandot is 71. The course will be a new one to most of the visiting pro entourage since two previous Columbus invitationals were held on the Country Club course.

Bobby Locke won last year's title, playing in the rain The Dour South African will be on hand to defend his laurels, and he'll rank as favorite along with Lloyd Mangrum, the No 2 money winner on the pro circuit this year.

System Aids Vote-Result Predictions

Economist Shows Amazing Accuracy

By JAY RICHTER

(Central Press Correspondent)

WASHINGTON — Want to predict which party is going to win the election in November by how much?

You could do worse than to use the system developed by Dr. Louis Bean, Washington economist and special assistant to the secretary of agriculture.

For a dozen years, Bean has been forecasting election results with amazing accuracy, and without the aid of the stars or hunches.

In 1944, he predicted Roosevelt would get 53 per cent of the popular vote. FDR got 53.8 per cent. Bean forecast a 55 per cent majority for the Democrats in 1940, a prediction which was right on the button.

The gray-haired economist, who came to this country from Lithuania 42 years ago, also has an enviable reputation for calling the turn in off-year congressional elections.

He predicted in 1946 that Republicans would win 55 per cent of the House seats in Congress, thereby wresting control from the Democrats. The GOP won 57 per cent of the seats.

FORESAW DROP

Prior to the 1938 elections, Bean said that the Democratic majority on Capitol Hill would drop from 79 per cent to somewhere between 60 and 65 per cent. Actually, it dropped to 61 per cent.

Bean will not answer the 64-dollar question—"Who's going to win the election this November?"—until after both major parties have picked their candidates. With Wallace's third party in the picture, he says, it's going to be a tough one to figure even then.

Bean uses no mirrors in making his forecasts. His system is based on thorough study of current political facts which he then relates to election trends of the past.

Knowledge of traditional ballot behavior in any one of several different states, together with some understanding of current political sentiment in the state, can be a reliable guide by which to judge the outcome of national elections.

Bean's studies reveal some ways of eliminating guesswork from election predictions:

Remember that Massachusetts is highly sensitive to issues. Normally 7 per cent less Democratic than the country as a whole, it has nonetheless gone Democratic in the past five presidential races.

Iowa is usually 7 to 8 per cent less Democratic than the country.

Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, California, Washington and Oregon jump higher and fall farther, statistically speaking, than the nation as a whole. Wisconsin and Minnesota, for example, have been twice as flexible as the nation since 1928.

GOP HAS EDGE

If the GOP and Democrats split the two-party vote 50-50, the Democrats usually win 22 states with the following 26 going to the Republicans:

Indiana, Idaho, Colorado, Ohio, Delaware, Nebraska, Washington, Wyoming, Rhode Island, California, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota, Illinois, New Hampshire, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Massachusetts, Iowa, Michigan, Maine and Vermont.

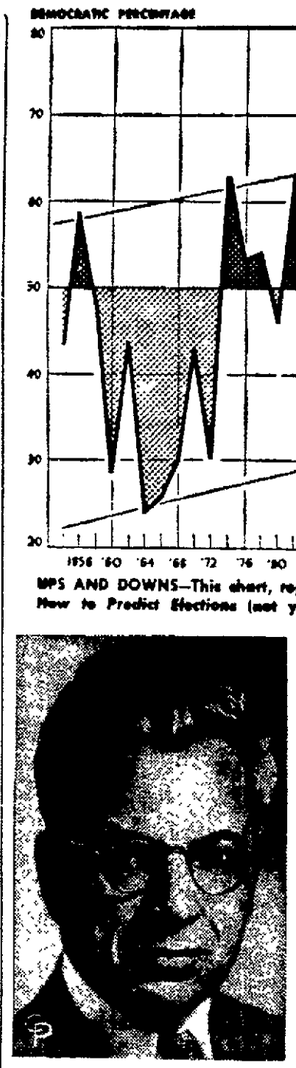
Bean thinks well of the public opinion polls, and uses the results himself.

"However," he says, "we don't obtain forecasts from opinion polls. The polls usually ask how the voter would cast his ballot today, not how he's going to vote in November."

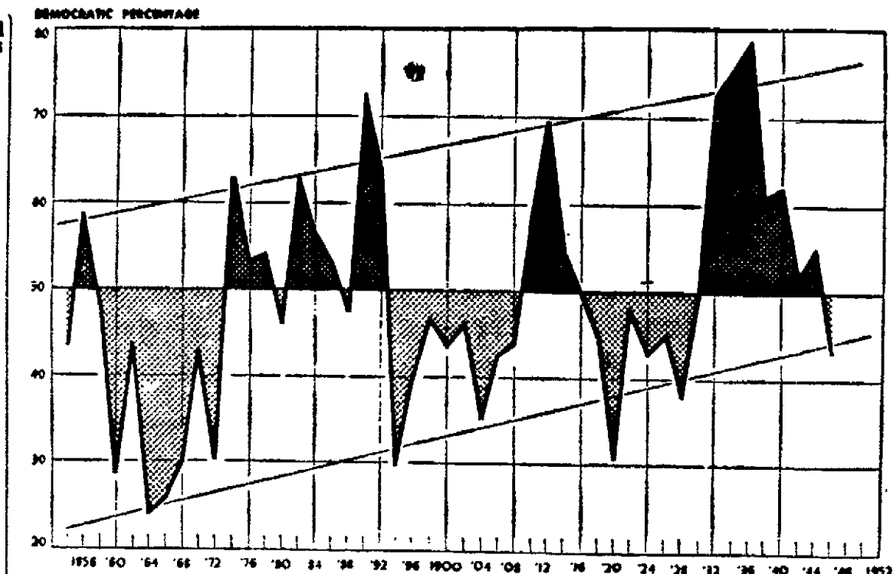
The government economist likes to "kid around" with statistics, and sometimes refers to his own forecasting system as the "Bean Poll."

Bean confounded a meeting of the Washington chapter of the American Statistical association a while back by soberly announcing that he had perfected a new survey technique which is described as the "Adams' Correlation."

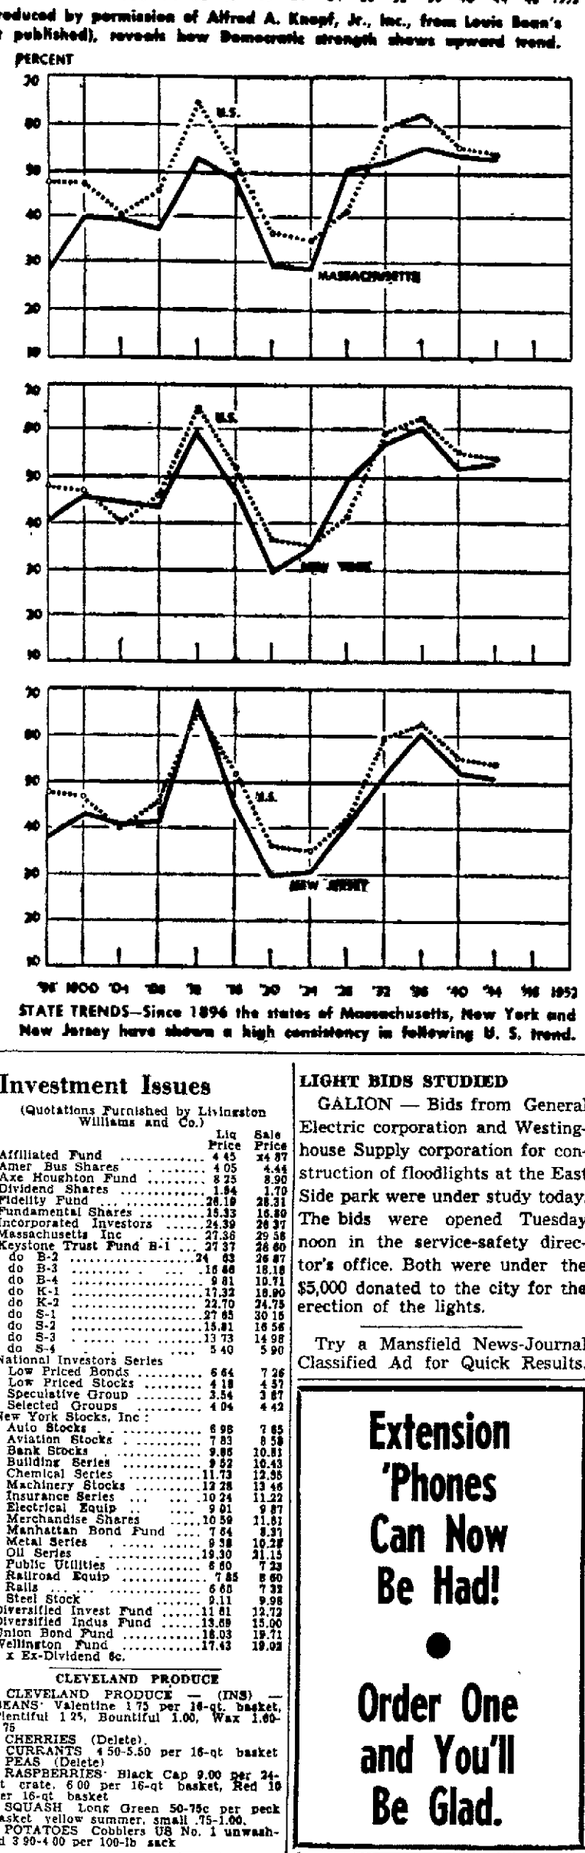
"If interviewers are automatically placed in all counties named Adams throughout the United States," he said, "their pollings, judging from past records, will reproduce the national presidential results with great accuracy."



DR. LOUIS BEAN—His forecast system has shown amazing accuracy.



UPS AND DOWNS—This chart, reproduced by permission of Alfred A. Knopf, Jr., Inc., from Louis Bean's How to Predict Elections (not yet published), reveals how Democratic strength shows upward trend.



STATE TRENDS—Since 1896 the states of Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey have shown a high consistency in following U. S. trend.

LIGHT BIDS STUDIED

GALION — Bids from General Electric corporation and Westinghouse Supply corporation for construction of floodlights at the East Side park were under study today. The bids were opened Tuesday noon in the service-safety director's office. Both were under the $5,000 donated to the city for the erection of the lights.

Czechs Give Tito Cheers

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia —(AP)— Cheers for Marshall Tito and Yugoslavia rang out in Prague as thousands of Czechoslovak gymnasts marched through the rain in a parade Tuesday climaxing the 11th Sokol games.

Extra police were on duty with the announced purpose of handling traffic, but anti-communist Sokol members commented the police would be handy in case any demonstration was made against the government.

The games and mass maneuvers in which some 20,000 persons have taken part, have attracted thousands from other countries.

The Sokol organization's leadership was purged after the February coup in which the communists seized power in Czechoslovakia. Many of its members are ardently anti-communist and refused to participate in this congress.

The parade was led by a Russian contingent carrying a huge Soviet flag surmounted by a portrait of Stalin. Flags were dipped as the marchers passed the platform where President Klement Gottwald and his cabinet were seated, but the cheering and waving of flags had stopped just before this.

Scores of small paper American flags appeared in the parade, waved by individuals and cheered by spectators. One group of youngsters carried the American flags aloft past the platform, despite orders from leaders to down such banners at that point.

Mansfielder Becomes Ensign

Aviation Cadet George W. Loesch, Mansfield, was one of the three cadets to receive designations as naval aviators and to be commissioned an ensign in the Navy at ceremonies held at the Naval Air Station, Jacksonville, Fla., July 2. During the ceremony, 31 aviation midshipmen were awarded their certificates designating them Naval Aviators by the commanding officer. However, since only aviation cadets receive commissions upon completion of advanced training, there were only three officers to receive this honor. Loesch was among them. He is the son of Mr and Mrs. George Loesch of 316 North Townview circle.

Loesch

Ensign Loesch will report shortly for his new duty with the Commander, Fleet Air West Coast, San Diego, Calif.

SCHOOL LEVY PROPOSED

Temper Bad? Place Blame On Sunspots

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—If tempers flare and emotions are unbalanced, it may be due to the ultraviolet rays from the sun spots now nearing their maximum number and intensity for the first time in 11 years, says Dr. Roy K. Marshall, director of Fels planetarium.

These beams of invisible energy coming from the sun 93,000,000 miles away can easily affect tempers of people, he said.

Then too emotions are controlled by various glands of the body which readily may be disturbed by the sun's ultraviolet rays, Dr. Marshall told a reporter.

He pointed out the last time the sun spots reached their maximum frequency was in 1937 when Hitler began his plan of world conquest.

Dr. Marshall said scientists say they don't know the "why about sun sports," but the ultra-violet rays emanating from them affect every living thing on earth.

Some scientists, he explained, contend these very short rays have produced a more prolific growth of foliage on trees and produced more abundant crops this year.

Others say the abundant rainfall this year has been caused by sun spots.

U. S. Ships On the Move

ROME —(AP)— U. S. warships in the Mediterranean were on the move today.

Four ships, headed by the aircraft carrier Kearsarga, sailed Tuesday from Naples in a southwesterly direction. The naval attache at the U. S. embassy here said the ships were under secret orders. He said he had no knowledge of their destination. Also sailing were the destroyers Meredith, O'Hare and James C. Ownes.

Earlier an Istanbul dispatch said three U. S. cruisers and an escort carrier had sailed from there a day ahead of schedule. They were the cruisers Fargo, Huntington and Juneau and the carrier Palau.

Ashland to Revive Unused Wells to End Water Famine

Move Seen As Ending Shortage

State Gives Aid To Work Out Plan

ASHLAND — Ashland's critical water shortage due to insufficient filtration capacity is expected to end within the next few days.

Stop-gap improvement of present filters, plus rigid orders for consumer conservation of water constitute the speedy action authorized by Mayor Louis E. Mansfield, city council and the state health board Tuesday.

With the assistance of D. P. Griffin, assistant sanitary engineer for Ohio, the mayor and waterworks officials worked out a plan Tuesday for uncapping formerly used city wells, chlorinating the water and pumping it into the mains while the two filter beds are being overhauled. The wells were capped after completing the city treatment plant six years ago.

FINE VIOLATORS

City council gave the mayor the go-ahead on the plan and passed an ordinance prohibiting sprinkling of lawns during the emergency, providing a $25 fine for violators.

Today the mayor issued emergency orders on various forms of water wastage by consumers. These included an order against running water to wash hands, an order against sprinkling lawns, washing autos or porches with hose, filling private swimming pools, operation of wash racks in garages, auto laundries and taxi stands, and an order for extreme caution in burning trash or contributing in any way to fire hazards.

Mayor Mansfield pointed out last night that revamping of the filters is only a stop-gap measure and that priorities for materials for the two additional filter beds will be sought immediately. These are part of the $350,000 waterworks improvement program now under way. Contracts have been let for their construction but specifications are incomplete and it may require nine months to a year for their completion, council was advised.

Until the new filtration beds are completed, rigid conservation of water must be observed throughout the city, the mayor said. Facing the danger of a complete breakdown of the two overworked filters trying to supply water for Ashland's rapidly increasing population, Mayor Mansfield stated that every effort will be made to enforce water conservation until the new filters can be put into operation.

OLD REGIMES BLAMED

The present crisis has resulted from failure of former city administrations to provide adequate water treatment facilities in the face of the growing population, the mayor said. Warnings by waterworks and health officials went unheeded until the recently enacted legislation providing for the $350,000 improvement program now under way, he pointed out.

That the program got under way too late was evidenced Thursday when consumers found themselves without water for hours at a time. The two million gallon standpipe went dry and the city's two filters could not meet the demand fast enough to raise the water in the standpipe or to provide pressure in the mains. Each filter had to be cleaned of sludge at eight to 12-hour intervals. To do this the pumps had to be turned off. With no water in the standpipe to provide pressure, Ashland literally "went dry."

Unless some unforeseen bottleneck crops up in uncapping the old city wells, waterworks officials predict Ashland will have a steady supply of water by the end of the week.

Missing Boy, 6, Found at Newville

Clyde Salyers, 7, was found safe in the custody of a trucker near Newville Monday evening after Richland county sheriff's office had received a report that he was lost while berry picking near Lucas

The boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Salyers, who reside between Mansfield and Shelby, became lost from Lucas relatives as they picked berries on the E. L. Guinn farm, south of Lucas, according to the report. He apparently wandered from the berry patch into the highway where he was picked up by the trucker who took him as far as Butler looking for his companions or his relatives' home. When they failed to locate either, the unidentified trucker started back, reaching Newville where relatives of the boy met him.

Market Backs Down Slowly With Losses Evenly Divided

NEW YORK —(AP)— The stock market slowly backed down fractions to around a point today.

Losses were well distributed and even the popular rails and oils slipped into the minus column.

Business was about even with yesterday's slow session when less than 1,000,000 shares changed hands.

Check Old Building

Two state welfare department officials were to meet with county commissioners today to make recommendations for future use of the Richland County Children's home.

The two officials are Judge Henry J. Robison, chief of the division of social administration for Ohio, and John R. Ferguson, head of the state's children's services.

John W. Selby, chairman of the county commissioners, said the meeting was scheduled for 3:30 p. m. Meeting with Judge Robison and Ferguson will be members of the Richland County Child Welfare board.

According to the commissioners, the state officials were called in to give an impartial report on the condition of the Home. Selby said the commissioners feel it is useless to try to repair or remodel the 80-year-old structure on Hedges street.

Selby said he asked the Child Welfare board to make a recommendation for improvements at the home and that he favored the proposal made by the board that the home be established on a farm property from three to five miles from Mansfield.

MAYOR ON VACATION

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn left Mansfield late yesterday for a three-day rest and vacation. He said he would return late Friday.

Auto Stolen

Carl Weisenburger, 194 West Fourth street, reported to police yesterday that his car was stolen from in front of his home between 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. yesterday. License number of the car is VZ-636.

Shelby Faces Increase In City Budget

Special Session Called Friday

SHELBY—Shelby's city council, faced with a $15,500 increase in the proposed budget for the next fiscal year, will take action on the matter Friday at a special session.

The $138,440 budget was presented before city council last night by Chester P. Monn, director of finance. No action was taken when it developed that council lacked a necessary quorum to act.

Reasons advanced for the increase in the budget by council members included an additional $500 for city relief plus a $2,000 increase for sewer and drain maintenance.

BOND ON AGENDA

The long awaited engineers report covering the improvements to the City Light plant will be presented at the special meeting Friday. It is expected that a few pointed questions will be asked regarding the floating of the $400,000 bond.

Information received indicated that in order to assure maximum and efficient production, additional improvement may be necessary which would raise the figure closer to the $1,000,000 mark.

The possibilities of dredging the creek between Gamble street and Walnut due to complaints from residents regarding overflow conditions and odors was discussed. The mayor said he would confer with County Engineer Walter Rusk regarding the matter.

Park Concerts To Resume Sunday Night

The traditional Sunday evening concerts in North Lake park will be resumed Sunday at 8:15 p. m., Eugene Smart, director of the series, announced today.

The free concerts have been presented every summer for 15 years by pupils of the Smart Music Studio and guest artists.

The entertainment will be offered every Sunday night through July and August under the sponsorship of the North Lake Park association. Gordon Ensminger is president of the association.

2 Mansfield Men Fined In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS — Although Bucyrus went through the double holiday without a major mishap, Bucyrus police department handled two assault cases and several traffic violations over the week-end.

Two Kentuckians, Ben Dyer and M. V. Dyer were fined $25 and costs in mayor's court Tuesday on assault and battery charges. The charge grew out of an altercation in the 200 block North Sandusky avenue. The men were found by police fighting with open pocketknives.

Victor Walker, 68, Mansfield, was fined $25 for leaving the scene of an accident and was held in city jail for non-payment.

Frederick N. Ankney, 24, New Washington, paid $5 and costs for reckless operation and Wilber N. Petty, Mansfield, paid a similar fine for driving without an operator's license.

Flooded Basement Brings $1,500 Claim Against City

A claim of $1,500 for damage caused by a flooded basement was made on the city at a meeting of city council last night.

Joseph Freedman, proprietor of an army surplus store at 305 North Mulberry street, wrote council that his basement was flooded by a backed-up sewer during a heavy rain on June 12, causing heavy damage.

"It is my contention," he stated, "that the city is responsible for the condition (backed up sewers) in that no effort has been made to control flood conditions by providing storm sewers needed to carry off excess water."

His letter was referred to the claims committee of council.

2 More Bodies Brought Home

The bodies of two Mansfielders who lost their lives during World War II have been returned from Italy aboard the U.S.A.T. Carroll Victory, the department of the Army announced today.

They are Pfc. Harold Leicy, whose next of kin was listed as Isaac L. Leicy, 399 West Fifth street, and Pfc. William H. Schrack who listed Mrs. Burton B. Schrack, 214 Seventh avenue, as next of kin.

A total of 4,842 Americans, including 238 Ohioans, were returned on the ship. The Army stated that each next of kin was notified in advance of the arrival of the vessel and would be notified of the arrival of the remains at the regional distribution centers of the American Graves Registration service.

Former Hostage Takes Own Life

LANCASTER —(AP)— Joseph R. Stanko, 36, who was held hostage by four Mansfield reformatory escapers in 1946, was found hanging dead in his garage yesterday, an apparent suicide victim, Coroner Charles A. Barrow reported.

Four reformatory escapers forced Stanko and his wife, Ruby, to accompany them in November of 1946. Police captured the group several hours later in Holmes county. The Stankos were unharmed.

TB Commission Plans Monthly Sessions

The Richland county tuberculosis sanatorium building commission met today and discussed the procedure to be used by contractors in submitting bills.

The commission has decided to hold monthly meetings on the seventh of each month during construction of the TB sanatorium.

Council authorized payment of the following claims arising from damage to automobiles on rough streets:

Clem Wehinger, 347 Bartley avenue, $28.06; Robert Rush South Main street, $20.36, and Grace Pocock, 377 Wayne street, $43.76.

BONDS ISSUED

The legislators approved an ordinance providing for the issuance of $48,000 worth of bonds in anticipation of the collection of special assessments for 15 street improvement jobs. The $48,000 represents the amount of money owed by persons who chose to pay on the installment plan rather than on a cash basis.

The service-safety director was authorized to advertise for the purchase of furniture for the new No. 5 station on Marion avenue. Council appropriated $1,000 for the purpose.

The director also was authorized to enter into a contract with J. E. Au for the use and management of the city dump.

By terms of the contract, Au will have salvage rights at the dump in return for keeping all grounds in a level condition and maintaining roads to and from the area. He must also keep an attendant on duty from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. every day except Sunday.

Auto Sales Firm Incorporated

The Bookwalter Motor Sales company, operating for nine months here as a partnership, yesterday filed corporation papers with the secretary of state in Columbus, while the Schonauer Motor Sales company, authorized an extended stock issuance.

Principal stockholders in the Bookwalter corporation were listed as Donald S., Charles F., and Wilbur F. Bookwalter. Donald E. Smith served as corporation attorney. The corporation was for 1,000 shares of no par common stock.

Charles F. Freehafer, attorney for the Schoenauer firm said the extension of 1,000 shares of no par common stock to Gifford F. and Irma Schonauer was authorized to enable the company to expand the business when necessary.

Court Coal Fight Looms

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Government machinery may be set in motion today leading to a new federal court injunction against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers' union which is now on strike in steel company "captive" mines.

As the walkout threatened a serious cutback of steel production, Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the national labor relations board, was reported completing an unfair labor practice complaint against the UMW.

Once the complaint is issued—on charges filed by the steel industry that the union's 1948 contract violates the Taft-Hartley law — Denham then can appeal to a federal court for an order designed to end the work stoppage.

If issued, it would be the fourth injunction aimed at Lewis and the miners in the past 20 months.

An estimated 45,000 workers in the pits which feed coal to the nation's steel mills failed to return from their annual 10-day vacation Tuesday because they have no contract. Several thousand miners in commercial pits also were idle today.

The mail receptacles must be provided and installed by the patrons on the route, and must be installed at such height and in such position that the carrier can serve them without leaving his vehicle.

Such mail boxes should be so installed that the bottom of the box will be 42 inches to 48 inches from the ground. Also, the name and house number should be placed on each box, and in such position as to be visible to the carrier as he approaches on his line of travel The carrier on this mounted city delivery route will not sell stamps, stamped paper, money orders, etc.

The mounted city delivery route is being set up in two sections, east and west.

MORNING ROUTE

When service commences on this route, the eastern section will be served in the forenoon, and the line of travel followed by the carrier on the morning trip will be as follows

From post office via Wooster road to Pulver-List road; northerly on Pulver-List road to Ashland road, northeast on Ashland road to Grace street; northerly on Connor drive to Forest; easterly on Forest to Acker drive; southerly on Acker drive to Ashland road; northeast on Ashland road to Indiana avenue; South on Indiana avenue to City View drive, east on City View drive to Michigan avenue; north on Michigan avenue to Ashland road; northeast on Ashland road to Parry street; retrace to Kentucky avenue; south on Kentucky avenue to Grace street; east on Grace street to Parry street; west on Grace to Ashland road; southwest on Ashland road to Rocky River bridge (last morning delivery); southwest to post office.

AFTERNOON ROUTE

In serving the western section of the mounted city delivery route in the afternoon, the carrier's line of travel will be as follows·

From post office northwest on Springmill to King street: west on King street to France street; north on France street to Arnold; east on Arnold to Springmill; southeast on Springmill to King; northwest on Springmill to Longview; west on Longview to Belmont, north on Belmont to Springmill Southeast on Springmill to Longview; retrace to Country Club drive; north on Country Club drive to Hanna road; west on Hanna to Herring; south on Herring to Springmill; west on Springmill to Averill; north on Averill to Hanna; west on Hanna to Benedict; south on Benedict to Springmill; west on Springmill to Burger; north on Burger to Hanna; west on Hanna to Belmont; south on Belmont to Springmill; west on Springmill to Fairfax; north on Fairfax to Hanna; west on Hanna to Lenox; south on Lenox to Springmill; west on Springmill to Trimble road; south on Trimble road to Walker; west on Walker to Concord; north on Concord to Wyandotte; east on Wyandotte to Trimble; south on Trimble to McPherson; east on McPherson to Lawnsdale; north on Lawnsdale to France; north on France to Kohler; east on Kohler to Springmill; and southeast to post office.

INSTRUCTIONS TO PATRONS

All patrons on this mounted city delivery route should use the words "MOUNTED ROUTE" as part of their home addresses, and should advise all their correspondents to include the words "MOUNTED ROUTE" as well as the street or road and house number in addressing mail to them. The old rural route number should be dropped entirely once the new route setup is in operation.

These changes do no affect the residents of the territory served by our Rural Route No. 6, but will alter Rural Routes 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5.

With the inauguration of the new delivery route setup, the official description and line of travel to be followed by each of the 5 rural routes which will be altered will be as follows:

Bomb Explosion Disturbs Complacency

MANSFIELD has been free—for a number of years—from the extreme of violence evidenced by a bomb explosion, and it may be said that such an exhibition of outlawry is ill-fitted to this customarily peaceful community.

It could scarcely have been guessed by the vicious scoundrel who placed a bomb in the secluded areaway off East Second street early Monday morning, that his act would be observed and that police officers and firemen would arrive before the bomb exploded.

He may therefore be regarded as innocent of intent to injure the two patrolmen and two firemen who reached the scene and who made a valiant but futile effort to prevent the explosion.

It was this unforeseen complication, however, which may intensify efforts to run down the perpetrator and disclose the motive for such an act—for occurrences of this kind never lack a motive, and in this particular case there is such an involvement of conflicting theories as to justify a very thorough investigation of all angles that may be either directly or remotely associated with the bombing—in which a number of lives were endangered, in addition to property damage.

It is in such cases as this that the co-operation of county, state and federal law enforcement authorities should be made available to cities of Mansfield's class, and the occupancy of a part of an adjoining building by an Army recruiting station would seem to warrant entry of the FBI into the investigation.

Without inclination to accept any of the rumors that have been flying around town since the explosion, and accepting the sincerity of Chief of Police Schwab's expression of belief that this occurrence is unconnected with the local gambling situation, the circumstances are so similar to acts of violence among rival gambling interests that occur in some other cities from time to time that this angle will probably not be overlooked during the progress of investigations.

Something Lacking On the Fourth

TIME WAS, not so many years ago, when a supervised fireworks display was a regular part of Mansfield's Fourth of July celebration, with a sponsoring group collecting money to meet the cost.

This year, however, there was apparent lack of sufficient interest on the part of any individuals or organization to provide such a community entertainment program in Mansfield, although a number of neighboring smaller cities carried through in a customary way with creditable Fourth of July celebrations.

Extent to which thousands of people are interested in such an exhibition was evidenced Monday evening by the traffic congestion on the Park avenue east road and vicinity thoroughfares, following announcement of a fireworks display in connection with a carnival attraction in that area.

Whether or not it is advisable to hold such an exhibition at a place that lacks sufficient parking space to accommodate a large number of motor cars, rather than jamming highways during the heavy traffic of a holiday evening is a point that needs considering in this connection, but resumption of something in the way of local community observance of the Fourth of July seems worthy of thought—and possible action before another Independence day rolls around.

Open Way For Swimming Instruction

AN OUTSIDER who attempts to tell a person how to run his business is more often criticized than thanked. Yet, there are times when comments, constructively intended, seem justified.

Recently the Red Cross was refused use of the swimming pool at North Lake park for the purpose of conducting classes in swimming and life saving.

A question immediately arises. Did those responsible for the refusal stop to consider that such classes not only promote safety, but also increase interest in the sport on which the pool depends as a commercial institution?

While it is granted that the classes might be a temporary inconvenience, yet there seems every possibility that they would return an actual profit to the pool operators on a long-term basis.

Then too, there are, in the neighborhood of the pool, children who are holders of family or other types of season tickets. Some of these children need the instruction offered by the Red Cross, and would enter the classes if not forced to cross the city to Liberty park pool to attend.

In these cases, the pool operators are, in effect, turning away their own customers.

No effort is being made here to tell the operators of the North Lake pool what they should do. Rather, this comment is intended for their consideration on the basis that reasons listed for lifting the ban might outweigh reasons that brought it about.

Kansas Farm Gains Prominence

KANSAS is the geographical center of the United States, and has long claimed that it was the geographical center of the world. The problem was to get the rest of the world to admit it. Now this overdue recognition is on the way.

A project to measure exactly the earth's size and shape is under preparation, says the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey. Much of this has already been done, with the surveyors' charts all starting from a marker on a farm near Osborne, Kan. For years all national surveys have started from this point; now it will be the beginning of a world survey.

Speaking of the length of nomination speeches, one Democratic party leader says that "everything necessary can be said in ten minutes"—but who'd ever think of confining a nominating speech to "necessary" statements?

There's a rumor that Bob Feller is to put aside his other enterprises and concentrate on pitching—and it seems time for him to decide on one or the other.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

Moral Rearmament of China Proposed

CHINA has the biggest population of any nation — more than one-fifth the people of the whole globe. She also carries the greatest burden of tribulation.

She is torn with terrible civil war involving communism. She is afflicted with an economic crisis which presents a seemingly bottomless pit. Within that pit millions are dying of starvation as they struggle for existence.

Indeed, conditions are so bad that they have baffled not only the home government, but all expert efforts at repair by a deeply disturbed America.

Therefore it is intriguing to find top Chinese officials turning as a final resort to moral rehabilitation for a solution. They figure they can get further on the basis of brotherly cooperation than by hostilities and the exploitation of one group by another.

Too idealistic, you say? Well, I'm not prepared to argue that point. I'm merely recording an extraordinary development which I encountered the other day for the second time when I met Dr. Chen Li-Fu, vice-president of the Chinese parliament and one of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's right-hand men.

Some months ago this column reported that General Ho Ying-Chin, then head of the Chinese military delegation to the United Nations but now minister of defense in Nanking, had subscribed to the idea of moral re-armament.

* * *

Similarity In Ideals.

DR. CHEN has been attending the World Assembly for Moral Re-armament in California as a representative of the Chinese government. This means, of course, that Generalissimo Chiang also subscribes to the idea.

The 49-year-old Dr. Chen is a striking personality, as I discovered during a long conversation with him at the luncheon table Statesman, educator, philosopher and noted author, Chen during 1919-23 took a mining course in Peiyang University, Tientsin, and followed this with a degree of master of science at Pittsburgh university.

Then he exhibited the thoroughness which is one of his outstanding characteristics; he joined the miners' union and dug coal underground for more than a year.

The doctor has stressed the spiritual factor in his writings. He has expressed the belief that a durable world peace is possible if the moral principles of mutual trust, mutual respect and mutual assistance could be accepted by all peoples of the world as the very guidance of international relations. From this it is easy to see his interest in the World Assembly for Moral Re-armament.

"I see in moral re-armament the meeting point of East and West, China and America," he remarked to me. "MRA deals with fundamental things — morality, sound home life, economic and political teamwork on a national and international scale. This is more than an idea. Here I see a dynamic force already in motion, giving a pattern and a pace for a new era of understanding. On this level we Chinese and you Americans talk the same language."

Knowing Dr. Chen is a Confucianist and not a Christian, I remarked that I supposed he based his statement on the fact that Confucianism and Christianity run parallel on many moral questions.

He nodded, and said that because of the similarities it would be easy for the Chinese people as a whole to accept the moral teachings of the West. As we discussed this point I couldn't help thinking of my friend the late Mahatma Gandhi, the Hindu, who once told me that the greatest influence in his life had been the Sermon on the Mount.

Maybe Dr. Chen has got hold of an idea.

High Prices To Be Issue

By THOMAS L. STOKES

DURING his tour across the country President Truman struck the most sensitive nerve and got the most earnest reaction from his audiences when he spoke about high prices and the failure of Congress to do anything about them.

Democrats are conscious that this may become the biggest issue before the country by the time of the election.

Consequently, they plan to hit it hard in their platform and in the speeches at their own convention in Philadelphia beginning next Monday. They will capitalize upon the comparatively minor attention that Republicans gave to the subject at their own convention, despite the fact that prices reached a new high just as that convention ended.

The Republican platform spoke of the "cruelly high prices," but then dismissed the whole matter with a generalized program of orthodox economics, such as reducing the cost of government, elimination of overlapping, duplication, extravagance and excessive centralization in government.

Those are phrases that have appeared in every Republican platform for many years and are sufficiently vague, particularly, for example, to the harried housewife who has to count so carefully these days.

In their platform Republicans blamed the Democrats for high prices by declaring that the government "has not effectively used the power it possesses to combat inflation, but deliberately has encouraged high prices."

To this the Democratic retort is that additional powers were needed and that President Truman asked Congress for them, including standby controls, but Republicans refused to give them to him, which is, of course, the fact, whatever merit there may be in the argument on both sides.

This serves to point up, however, the difference in approach by the two parties which will form the basis of debate during the campaign, at least at the outset.

* * *

Each To Blame Other.

THE Democratic position will be for something more on the order of a managed economy which, if necessary, would include the additional controls asked of Congress by President Truman.

Republicans, on the other hand, will stand for the customary free enterprise philosophy by which the economy is supposed to readjust itself in time under the law of supply and demand. Times are good, as that expression is used, and Republicans evidently do not intend to rock the boat or create fears.

Who is to blame for high prices will be argued again in the campaign as it has been for months. President Truman will continue to tell his story about his attempts to get an adequate price control law, and Republicans will continue to point to his own retreat just before the 1946 election when he abolished many controls himself, and then will claim credit for themselves for doing away with them, all in the accepted campaign manner.

If the inflationary spiral continues and there is threat of a collapse at some not distant future date, this indeed may become the major issue.

In that case, it is likely that Governor Dewey, the Republican nominee, who is a practical and adaptable political leader, may find himself forced to depart from his vague platform and get more over to the managed economy position.

Unless some consideration is given to inflation, to the victor in November—whoever he may be—may come similar spoilage. The time may come when the loser—whoever he may be—may be grateful that he was spared the fruits of victory.

Speaking of Your Health

Sleep-Producing Drugs

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE heavy consumption, during recent years, of sleep-producing drugs indicates that more and more people, finding the pursuit of sleep difficult, are seeking in these preparations quick passage to the land of dreams.

This should not be so because sleep is a natural thing which should come of itself. The fact that so many people must woo it by artificial means is probably due to the many worries and strains which accompany modern life.

Of course, sleeplessness may be due to other causes. A room which is too hot or too cold, improper covering, an uncomfortable bed, lack of fresh air, outside noises or too much light all can interfere with sleep. But by far the most frequent cause is the bad habit of inviting all one's worries to share one's bed

Not a Cure.

The use of sleeping pills alone is not a cure for insomnia or sleeplessness, but, as a temporary help, such preparations are useful when employed under the direction of a physician.

Before these sedative drugs can be given, it must be determined why type of sleeplessness is present. For example, some persons have difficulty in falling asleep at first but, after they fall asleep, they sleep soundly. Others fall asleep easily but get restless and awaken after several hours, and there are still others who sleep fitfully and do not get enough sleep.

Those in the first group, it is suggested, may benefit from such a preparation as phenobarbital which is enteric-coated and is given about three or four hours before bedtime. Those in the third group should take another tablet on going to bed. Those in the second group will need only the one tablet on retiring.

Of course, anyone with persistent sleeplessness should have a careful study made by his physician to determine the cause, so that the most effective treatment may be employed.

The fear that universal fingerprinting is a step toward a general compromising of our liberties always has seemed to us as farfetched as the superstition of some savage tribes that to be photographed means the loss of a part of one's soul, which is transferred to the film.

In one way or another we are identified through life, beginning with a certificate of birth, and we must confess the distinction between one such index and another escapes us.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

President Truman Continues Confident

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — While every seasoned political leader in the Democratic party is convinced Harry Truman will suffer one of the worst election defeats in history, here are some sidelights on how the President himself feels about it.

Asked by aides how he felt about the GOP nominee, Tom Dewey, the President replied:

"I'll take him—like that," and he snapped his fingers.

Truman is so confident of taking the convention in his stride that he already is planning a 60-day campaign trip in August, September and October, taking him to every section of the country.

Italian Democracy.

DURING the Italian elections, the communists claimed that the deluge of American friendship letters sent to Italy and other U. S. aid was just a flash in the pan. After the elections, they argued, Americans would soon forget Italy.

Today, however, a remarkable shortwave radio contest across the Atlantic ends with the award of 1,750 prizes to the Italian people for the best letters on "How to win the peace and make real democracy live."

The contest has been broadcast for several weeks by World Wide Broadcasting Foundation, a non-profit organization, and a total of 14,000 Italian democracy letters have been received.

Radio experts consider this an unprecedented return, especially in view of the fact that Trans-Atlantic postage is expensive for the ordinary Italian, while he could hear about the contest only via shortwave radio or through brief mention in Italian newspapers.

In contrast to the slipshop manner in which NBC kissed off its shortwave propaganda broadcasts farmed out to it by the state department, a group of Americans worked hard to make the Italian-democracy contest a success. Generoso Pope, the Italian-American newspaper publisher, undertook the difficult job of translating the Italian essays into English.

Two hundred and fifty wrist watches were contributed as prizes by Ingersoll, Harman and Helbros watches, the Kruger Jewelry Co. of Austin, Texas, and Martin Gruenborn of Seattle. The Amalgamated Clothing Workers, together with Eagle Clothes and the O. P. O. stores, contributed 100 hand-tailored suits as prizes. Endicott-Johnson contributed 100 pairs of shoes; the Wing Shirt Co. 100 shirts; the Frank H. Lee Co. 1,200 hats, and Allis-Chalmers one tractor.

Since these firms do not sell in Italy, they had no motive in giving anything to Italians other than cooperating toward a closer understanding and a firmer democracy.

The judges in the contest are Judge Ferdinand Pecora of the N. Y. supreme court; Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, and Vincent Impellitteri, deputy mayor of New York.

Ambassador Toasts Cook.

DR. OSCAR IVANISSEVICH, former Argentine ambassador to Washington, now Peron's secretary of education, is having a bit of trouble with his high-powered campaign to sell himself for the presidential succession.

One day recently Ivanissevich and several other cabinet members were guests of honor at an outdoor luncheon given by the mayor of a town in Buenos Aires province. Wines flowed freely and the society-surgeon-turned-politico didn't stint himself.

Finally, he made a long speech in extravagant praise of the meal they had just eaten. The host beamed happily, but Dr. Oscar was not lauding him; he called for the chef and, when that functionary appeared, invited him to sit down and join the party.

About this time, icicles began forming all over the atmosphere. Social equality is part of Peron's propaganda line, but practicing it is something else again.

Ivanissevich, however, was only just getting warmed up. He went all through his eulogy again, then wound up by rising, wine glass in hand, to propose:

"Gentlemen, I ask you all to rise in tribute to this incomparable artist!"

Uncertainly, a few of the lesser fry stood up. But not one of the other ministers budged. Gen. Juan Pistarini, minister of public works, glared savagely at Ivanissevich and launched into a long monologue on airports, directed at Interior Minister Angel Borlenghi.

The secretary of education sat down again, his face livid. The chef gravely expressed his thanks and left the table. As he headed back toward the kitchen, he remarked to a waiter:

"The poor dope—he sure must have been loading it aboard!"

Washington Calling

Crusading Communists

By MARQUIS CHILDS

AT THE same time that Marshal Tito in distant Yugoslavia is feeling the crackdown of the Kremlin, the communist line in the United States is being drastically tightened. Evidence is mounting that the uneasy zealots who guide the party's destiny in this country are about to launch a new crusade for a "mass base" for their strange organization.

The repercussions of this new drive are being felt particularly within Henry Wallace's third party. The determination of the communists to take over lock, stock and barrel has produced a series of shocks that may split the loose confederation so violently that Wallace would be compelled to withdraw.

The contest between the communists and the sincere non-communist liberals who have followed Wallace is coming to the surface in the selection of delegates for the third-party convention scheduled to open in Philadelphia on July 28.

The communist leadership is determined to control that convention as part of the plan to lasso the Wallace following within the corral of the party itself.

In Colorado and Wisconsin the contest has become so bitter and the communist tactics so arbitrary that the non-communists are pulling out in disgust. There even may be an open break on the floor of the convention over the rights of contesting delegations.

How this growing rift may affect Wallace is a matter of wide speculation among his own followers. The party-line operators close to him have been concerned for some time over his growing restiveness.

Now and then the Communist Daily Worker has gently spanked him for his insistence on being a "progressive capitalist." The Wallace heresies—called "deviationism" in the gobbledegook of the party line—have caused increasing distress among the faithful.

* * *

Wallace Sidesteps Issue.

AS FOR Wallace, he has succeeded until very recently in closing his eyes to the communist influence within his own organization. In spite of earnest pleading from members of his own family, he has refused to say anything because, as he put it, he refused to participate in "red-baiting."

This was true even when the communist party officially claimed credit for the third-party movement. But the other day in his New England tour Wallace spoke out. The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun reported him as follows:

"I'm never going to say anything in the nature of red-baiting; but I must say this: If the communists would run a ticket of their own this year we might lost 100,000 votes, but we would gain 3,000,000.

"I know if the communists really wanted to help us, they would run their own ticket this year and let us get those extra votes."

This is "deviationism" of the rankest sort. It is a frank statement that the communist party is a deadly millstone for even a third-party candidate to carry. A day later Wallace issued still another official denial that he would withdraw. At Portland, Maine, he said he would stay in the race, no matter whether a Democrat or a Republican seemed about to win.

Apparently, the party line is to be drawn far more strictly from here on out. Any "temporary allies" are likely to find themselves under attack.

Just as Tito was attacked for showing the mildest kind of independence and failing to carry out orders to the letter, so American fellow-travelers will be told off for the slightest "deviationism." In a free society this would seem to be the best possible way to alienate all but the little core of zealots.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

SOME thought Mr. Truman was being polite when he said he would accept Mrs. Roosevelt as a running mate . . . Others believe that he would take Elliott at this point to get a Roosevelt on the ticket.

However Mrs. Roosevelt gracefully declined. . . . She has a natural suspicion of any plans offered for her well-being by the Republican's glamor girl, Clare Boothe Luce.

* * *

And besides, Mrs. R., has better to do than listen to senators make speeches for four years . . And many of the speeches seem that long.

At the moment the Democrat ticket is incomplete but has been nominated on the first ballot and elected by an overwhelming majority . . . according to the latest information from the White House.

Farmer's Diary

Tribute To Farm Women

By CALVIN A. BYERS

DRIVING along back country roads the other day, I saw a woman working in her garden. Her back was bent, and she was pulling a weed from beside a plant with patient, gentle fingers.

Her dress was full and dark and she had an apron on. A moist curl of brown hair showed beneath her bonnet. Something about her pose seemed so familiar that instantly I was thrilled—she looked like my mother. Nostalgic memories rushed over me, half sad, half joyful.

My mother had four sons. My wife has, too. Mothers of four boys, and a girl or two besides, in little brown homes upon the land, ought not to grow old and tired and gray. Nowhere so much as on a farm is a mother needed—nowhere does she fill a more natural and rightful place.

Cook and nursemaid, companion and friend, teacher and comforter of little children. Housekeeper, gardener, seamstress, laundress—even bookkeeper or typist, on occasion.

How do the women accomplish what they do? How do they ever manage the endless meals, the piles and piles of shirts and socks to wash and mend, the batches of dirty overalls? Yet they do manage all these things—and us men, besides!

It would be interesting to see a composite photograph of the American farm wife. She would be somewhat plump, I think, with the gentle motherly attributes much in evidence. She would certainly have a sense of humor, too—who could run a farmer without it?

She wouldn't be an angel, certainly not—though she wouldn't mind, perhaps, if one farmer appreciated her more angelic virtues.

She'd have spunk. She'd be sunk, if she didn't! She'd be inventive and curious, studious and gay by turns; she'd have poise and stamina, she could bind up a boy's bloody cut, or midwife at the birth of a farm animal, then put on her bib and tucker and preside at a community meeting.

"Her children rise up and call her blessed."

Tito's Stand Proves Reds Lack Unity

Satellites Want Independence

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The surprising thing about the Yugoslav rebellion is not that it happened but that it happened so soon—while the Red Army is still as far west as the Elbe river.

For there is no longer much doubt, I think, that the leading nations of eastern Europe, however Communist, are not the willing satellites of the Russian Empire and are certain to follow an independent insofar as they are not occupied or enveloped by the Russian Army.

The reason why Yugoslavia, rather than Poland, Czechaslovakia, or Hungary, was the first of the satellites to defy the Kremlin, I should suppose, is that the military position of Yugoslavia is more favorable to independence than is theirs.

It is not occupied, has no common frontiers with the Soviet Union, and is not within easy reach of the Red Army. Tito has a substantial army of his own. He is not dependent upon the Red Army, as are Poland and Czechoslovakia, for the protection of his territory against resurgent Germany. He has nothing to fear from Italy, and he has sea and frontiers open to the west. Thus the balance of military power protects him against direct Russian military pressure and permits him, indeed invites him, to exploit his advantage for national and personal purposes.

The events will show whether his rebellion was premature, whether, being an impetuous and ambitious man, he has underestimated the power which the Soviet Union can exert in his neighborhood by virtue of its military control of the industries, the railways, the rivers, and the strategical strong points of eastern Europe.

HINGES ON ARMY

But if Tito's rebellion fails, it will be because he attempted it before the Russian Army's withdrawal from the center of Europe.

If the evidence is not yet conclusive, it is certainly increasingly impressive, that the key to the Russian problem in Europe is not, as so many believe, the ideology of communism and the fifth column of the Communist parties. The key to the Russian problem in Europe is the presence of the Red Army in the center of Europe. The iron curtain is the Red Army on the Elbe river.

Thus, in reacting to the Cominform's denunciation, Tito called for a "general strengthening" of the Yugoslav Army which "protects the freedom and independence of the people of Yugoslavia." In the contest this can mean only that the army protects Yugoslavia against the Russian Army.

The Cominform's bill of complaint discloses the reason why without the presence of the Red Army, the Kremlin is unable to rule Europe through the Communist parties. Nowhere are the Communists more than a compact minority.

To stay in power they must either make terms with the Socialists and other non-Communists, as they have in Yugoslavia and Poland, or they must have overwhelming force behind them in order to exercise a purely Communist dictatorship.

But the national armies, recruited largely from the peasants, cannot be relied upon to support a purely Communist and urban dictatorship. For that an alien army, that is to say the Russian Army, is indispensible. If the Russian Army is not present to intervene, then, as the Cominform complains, the Communist party inevitably "dissolves in the nonparty mass."

In view of all this, what are we to make of the recent declaration at Warsaw by the eastern foreign ministers, including M. Molotov, that they favor "the swift conclusion of the German peace treaty" and "the swift withdrawal of the occupying forces from Germany?" It is inconceivable that a realist like Stalin could suppose that a swift withdrawal of the occupying forces from Germany, and therefore from all Europe, would not drastically reduce the Soviet power in Europe.

Why, then, does he offer to do the one thing which is most certain to make the Titos even more independent of Moscow, to release all the nationalist, all the European, all the anti-Russian sentiment, which is prevalent everywhere, especially in eastern Euhrope, even among Communists?

DIFFICULT TO FATHOM

It could be that he has made the offer believing that it would not be taken up seriously, or that if taken up, it can be weighted with conditions that the western nations would not accept.

But I find it hard to believe that Stalin would make such a point of offering to do something he meant not to do If he does not intend to withdraw, it would have been easy enough to find reasons to justify his staying.

The only explanation which seems to fit the facts will, no doubt, seem dangerously optimistic and too good to be true. It is that Stalin has really taken the basic decision to withdraw from Europe where he has lost the cold war and to turn to Asia where the prospects are much more favorable.

If he has, in fact, taken this decision, he would not, of course, need to surrender Europe unconditionally. He would, therefore, make every effort to retain as much influence as possible in Europe, and to weaken American and British influence, and to obtain as many advantages as he can by negotiating the terms of his withdrawal.

The Warsaw declaration is a very powerful diplomatic instrument for such a policy.

It comes right after Britain and America have committed themselves to a western German government which, whatever its other advantages can exist only as long as Germany is occupied and defended by the western armies. The Frankfort government requires the indefinite occupation of Germany.

As a result the Warsaw declaration enables Moscow to stand for the liberation of Europe from the occupying armies; it puts us in the position of wanting to continue the occupation.

This is very astute. If, as I think likely, the Soviets know that eventually they must withdraw, they have managed to make a virtue of their necessity, to acquire prestige from what is in fact a retreat. They have managed to make us lose face with the Germans and with the eastern Europeans because we are rejecting what could be made, if our diplomacy were equal to the situation, a decisive political victory for Europe and the western world.

MUST HAVE BOXES

With reference to those patrons of our present Rural Route No. 5 who reside in the South Boulevards and Woodland areas, Ford emphasized that two separate and distinct changes involved in the new delivery setup will affect many if not all of the residents in these two areas. For example, as mentioned earlier in this article, sections of certain streets in these two areas are being transferred from rural delivery service to city delivery service.

These people must have suitable mail boxes on their houses, and the houses must be numbered.

As another example, many people residing on streets adjacent to Lexington avenue (on streets not traveled by the rural carrier) receive their mail at present in so-called "Out-Boxes" situated on the carrier's line of travel on Lexington avenue.

Under the new setup, many of these people will receive delivery service to rural boxes in front of their homes. The same is true of some residents of Cook road and also many residents of the South Hills district.

CHECK STREET LISTS

If the people in these areas will check the list of streets being transferred to city delivery service, and then check the revised route description for Rural Route No. 5, they can determine how the new delivery setup affects them, the type of mail receptacle they should have, and where and how it should be installed.

"We shall do our utmost to put these changes into effect with the least possible inconvenience to patrons of this office, and with a minimum disruption of service," Ford said. "However, setting up these route and service changes involves a tremendous amount of detail work which must be carefully and correctly handled in every respect in order to avoid disrupting delivery service and causing serious inconvenience to thousands of people. We can only ask the public to bear with us and be patient while these arrangements are being completed."

Chapman Buys Nehi Plant

Purchase of the Nehi Bottling company at Third and Bowman streets by Floyd E. Chapman was announced today. Chapman, who came here from Hartville, O., acquired the property from Carl Goettinger.

Goettinger established the company eight years ago and will continue as manager of the plant. The company, which bottles Royal Crown Cola and Nehi drinks, has a franchise which covers five counties.

Chapman said he plans to expand the business. He will add a number of new flavors until the company has a complete line of flavored drinks.

Chapman has purchased a home in Woodland where he and Mrs. Chapman will reside after Aug. 1.

About Women

ARMSTRONG-WILHELM NUPTIAL RITE ANNOUNCED

Couple Leave for Honeymoon Trip Through Eastern States Following Service July 3.

JOHN WILHELM and his bride, the former Miss Mary Jane Armstrong, left for a honeymoon trip through the eastern states immediately following their marriage at the Lincoln Heights Gospel chapel last Saturday, July 3. The Rev. Fred Holdsworth officiated for the closed double ring service solemnized at 4 p. m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Armstrong, 112 South Michigan avenue, Lincoln Heights, and Mr. Wilhelm's mother is Mrs. Celestine Wilhelm, New England, N. D. Mr. Wilhelm has been residing at 131 South Adams street.

The street length dress worn by the bride was of eggshell crepe and she selected matching accessories Her headdress was a band of white rosebuds and she wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. Her corsage was a purple orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter jr., attended the couple as best man and matron of honor, respectively. Mrs. Hunter wore a gray street length dress with luggage tan accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding supper for 25 guests was served at the Armstrong home. Miniature bridal couples were used as the principal motif in the decorations. In the center of the table was a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by double candleholders.

For traveling the bride changed to an aqua jersey dress. With this she wore her light accessories and her orchid corsage.

Mrs. Wilhelm was graduated from Madison high school and Mansfield Business Training school and her husband is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school. He served two and one-half years in the Navy, part of which was spent in the South Pacific theater.

The bride is employed as a stenographer for the Mansfield Hardware and Supply company and Mr. Wilhelm is an employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Forrest, Pittsburgh, were out-of-town guests at the wedding.

S. J. Kasper, Bride Living In Mansfield

Steven J. Kasper and his bride of May 22 are residing at 584 North Mulberry street since their marriage in St. Mary's church at Wooster and their honeymoon trip through New York and Virginia.

The bride was Miss Mary Christine Nolletti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlo Nolletti, Wooster. The double ring service was read at 9:30 a. m. by the Rev. Edward S. Hannon, pastor of the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was wearing a satin gown with a lace-trimmed neckline and long, fitted sleeves. The full skirt fell into a long train. A tiara of seed pearls caught her lace-edged veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls, her gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Lucille Nolletti acted as her sister's maid of honor and the bridegroom's best man was his cousin, Robert Kasper.

A reception was given for the couple at the bride's home and 150 guests were served from the five-tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table.

For traveling Mrs. Kasper wore a blue wool suit and a pink top coat. Her corsage was of gardenias.

The bridegroom is an employe of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Beta Kappa Tau's Children's Fair is scheduled for tonight at 6 o'clock at the northwest corner of Fourth and Mulberry streets. Above are Mrs. Harold Schnittke, refreshment chairman, and Mrs. Ernest W. Yoakam, general chairman, displaying some of the paper hats and pompons made by the sorority members for sale at the affair. In case of rain tonight the fair will be postponed until Thursday at the same time and place.

Friends Fete Ruth Sheriff

Miss Ruth Sheriff, July 10 bride-elect of Eugene Sellmeth, was honored recently at a shower given by Miss Jean Wentz, Miss Mary Simon and Mrs. Richard Budd of Ashland. The dessert bridge party was given in the Wentz home, 478 West Fourth street.

For the dessert course the guests were seated at card tables centered with blue candles. Each burning candle was surrounded by four china figurines of Colonial ladies holding baskets of tiny mixed flowers.

The bridge prize was won by Mrs. Budd who presented it to the honoree.

Miss Sheriff was escorted to the dining room later in the evening where she found her miscellaneous shower gifts arranged under a pink paper parasol. A bowl of pink roses also decorated the table.

Schedule of Coming Events

THURSDAY

Auld Acquaintance club — Mrs. Sherman Teeter, 508½ South Main street, hostess.

The Alumni committee, Women of the Moose, will hold a covered dish dinner Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at North Lake park.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hutter Ritscher II, of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Frances Josephine Ritscher, to Carl Hugo Hagstrom of Royersford, Pa. Mr. Hagstrom is the son of the late Hugo Hagstrom and Mrs. Joseph Pennypacker. The wedding took place in St. John's Episcopal church, Norristown, Pa. Mrs. Hagestrom attended Moore Institute, Philadelphia and is a member of the Pittsburgh chapter Daughter of the American Revolution. Mrs. Hagestrom is a descendant of one of Mansfield's Earliest pioneer families.

JUNE WEDDING

Miss Mary Etta Elston, South Adams street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Murr of New London, Ohio, and Gilmore Mardorff, South Adams street, were united in marriage June 26 at 12:30. The Rev. Wannamacher officiated for the single ring ceremony in Norwalk, Ohio. Mrs. Clark Fetters, sister of the bride and Mrs Dalha Rader, niece of the bride, were the attendants Dalha Rader, nephew of the bride, was the best man. Mr. and Mrs. Mardoff will reside at 123 South Adams street.

Mrs. Frank Lausche Talks To Dolly Madison Club and Guests

MRS. FRANK LAUSCHE, of Cleveland, wife of the Democratic candidate for governor, was the guest of honor last evening at the family picnic given by the Dolly Madison club. One hundred and 25 convened at North Lake park pavilion for a basket supper and informal program.

The charming Mrs. Lausche, who may be "first lady" of the state," gave a short talk to the group, stressing women's interest in politics. She is a member of the League of Women Voters and has been active in the public affair work with the YWCA. This was her first visit to the Mansfield Democratic club.

Presiding for the business session was Mrs. George Davis, president of the Dolly Madison club. Candidates O. O. Orewiler, Harold Lutz, Howard Wenning, C. L. Mitchell, Charles Payne, Guy Stewart and Fred W. Dill were introduced and gave brief talks.

In a lighter vein was the entertainment, which consisted of an apron auction with George Biddle serving as auctioneer. Each man was given an apron string which he matched to find his lady partner. Women in the group modeled the aprons and first prize for the prettiest was given to Mrs. Lausche, who wore an apron made by Mrs. Walter Underwood. Paul Mitchell won first prize for finding his partner first.

Mrs. Davis spoke on the coming fall campaign and urged registration.

Among the guests was Mrs. Clara Southall of Columbus, mother of Mrs. Davis.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Miss Veronica Hanley, chairman; Mrs. E. W. Bradford, Mrs. Joseph Woerth, Mrs. Emma Young, Mrs. William Roth, Mrs. Edward Rein, Mrs. M. E. Madden, Mrs. Harold Marvin, Mrs. Basil Knapp, Mrs. John Kolb, Mrs. E. P. Long and Mrs. H. O. Fighter.

The next meeting of the club will be held Sept. 7 at the home of Mrs. Underwood, 139 West Dickson avenue.

Mrs. Walter Underwood, left, and Mrs. George Davis, right, converse with Mrs. Frank Lausche, of Cleveland, wife of the Democratic candidate for governor last evening when she was a guest at the Dolly Madison club family picnic at North Lake park. Mrs. Underwood is vice president of the club and Mrs. Davis, president.

Picnic Lunch Served at Park

The monthly meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church was held last Thursday at South Park. A picnic lunch was served at noon and Mrs. O. G. Place acted as chairman.

Mrs. C. L. Lisle, president, conducted a short business meeting and Mrs. George Hughes told of some of her experiences during her recent trip through the West.

Each circle convened briefly for a business session. The next meeting of the society will be Aug. 5 at the church.

HELPS JUVENILE APPETITE

Children are likely to be in more of a mood to eat supper if you interest them in quiet play for the half hour preceding supper. Making a doll bed, fitting together a puzzle or rearranging doll house furniture are typical relaxing activities that will get Junior and his sister ready for quiet eating.

Chi Sigma Plans For Convention

During the summer Rho chapter, Chi Sigma sorority, convenes each month for a picnic instead of a regular meeting and such an affair was arranged for Tuesday evening by Mrs. Russell Porch and her committee, Mrs. Robert Betz, Mrs. William Mosey, Mrs. Burlyn Schuck, Mrs. W. C. Upson, and Mrs. Harvie Willsey. The group met at Middle park. The tables were decorated with roses in copper containers. Mrs. William Enlow presided.

Three former members were in attendance. They were Mrs. Ronald Henderson, nee Louise Bean, of Toledo, Mrs. Richard Wappner, formerly Marjorie Rhoads, of Cleveland, and Mrs. Wayne Sutton, nee Ruth Velenka, of Wadsworth.

Preceeding the supper a Miss Hush contest was held. Miss Mary Butler was the winner.

Following the meal a short business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Upson, president. Plans were completed for a bake sale to be held July 10 at the Third street market.

The delegates for the national convention to be held in Philadelphia were instructed in their course of action. The convention is scheduled for July 22 through 25. Mrs. Upson and Mrs. John Carothers are the delegate and alternate, respectively. Also attending will be Mrs. V. C. Damcott, Miss Ethel Heuss, the present Delta Province vice president, and Miss Donna Enlow, now national editor of the sorority publication, Chi Scribbler, and a candidate for national treasurer of the sorority.

The date and place of the August picnic will be announced later. Mrs. William F. Black is the chairman with Miss Butler, Mrs. J. M. Clark, Mrs. George Connor, Miss Ruth Blaney, and Mrs. Carothers on the committee.

Miss Ann Bayer and M. H. Judy To Be Wed In Open Church Rite

THE DATE of the wedding of Miss Ann Bayer and Mahlon H. Judy has been set for August 1. Announcement was made at a tea given at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Bayer, 151 Blymyer avenue, July 3.

Fourteen relatives and friends were in attendance, and the nuptial date was made known by means of a home recording made by the prospective bridegroom. A contest was held in which each of the guests wrote a sentence of advice to the couple. The entries were judged by Mrs. M. H. Bayer and Mrs. Ross Judy, mothers of the bride and groom. The prize was presented to Mrs. John Vrbanac. A home recording was made of all the entries.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with roses and sweetpeas.

The wedding will be held in an open church ceremony at St. Luke's Lutheran church at 3 p. m. with the Rev. H. S. Garnes officiating.

Miss Bayer has chosen Miss Ruth Vrbanac, a close friend, as her maid of honor, and her two nieces, Peggy and Charlene Bayer, as junior bridesmaids. Serving as best man for Mr. Judy will be Colonel Elton W. Ringsak, retired, of Grafton, North Dakota. Colonel Ringsak is Mr. Judy's former commanding officer during the North African campaign. M. L. Bayer and Harold Doerr will escort the guests to their pews.

Friends Give Pantry Shower

For the pleasure of Miss Charlotte Gray, bride-elect of Richard W. McFarland, was the party given last evening at the home of Mrs. Frank Bennett, 29 Glenwood boulevard. Associate hostesses were Mrs. Jack Balliett of this city, Mrs. Truman Clark of Kansas City, Mo., and Mrs. Edward Wysocki of Tipp City, Ohio.

The 14 guests in attendance were former classmates and very close friends of the bride-elect and their mothers. Following a dessert-luncheon served at small tables centered with bouquets of sweetpeas, the evening was spent in making a bride's book.

Later the group surprised Miss Gray with a shower of pantry gifts and the hostesses gave her an electric toaster.

Mrs. George Albrecht of Los Angeles, Calif, aunt of the honoree, was the out-of-town guest present.

Miss Gray and Mr. McFarland will be wed Aug. 1 at the First Methodist church.

There are an estimated 23 million home sewing enthusiasts in the United States.

Auxiliary Commemorates Santiago Day

Mrs. Charles R. Hall, junior vice president of Charles Dick auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, conducted a business session Tuesday night at Memorial hall.

Committee reports were given and Mrs. Edith Massa, historian, read an article entitled "Americanism Is Democratic."

Mrs. Hattie Seymour, patriotic instructor, conducted a service in commemoration of Santiago Day which was 50 years ago July 3.

The Marquis Sewing Circle spent the afternoon quilting and sewing and at 6 o'clock the members served dinner to the auxiliary with Mrs. Andrew Heidinger and Mrs. Massa acting as hostesses.

The Circle had a short business session during which the members voted to give a contribution to the Girl Scouts to be used for furnishings for their new headquarters.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be July 20 and the Circle will spend the afternoon sewing.

AUXILIARY TO MEET

The Disabled American Veterans' auxiliary will have a supper and social meeting Wednesday, July 14 at 6:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Leroy Snyder, 483 Shepard road.

Teen-agers represent one-fourth of the total number of home sewers.

BROADWAY

STORIES FROM TIN PAN ALLEY

(About the songs the nation sings).

Show business again has changed it success story pattern. Not so long ago vaudeville and night clubs were the incubators for stardom. Now all you need is a hit record, and zoom — you're in! One current sensation of show business is the 29-year-old singing star, Jerry Wayne, whose "You Can't Be True, Dear" record is one of the greatest platter sellers in Tin Pan Alley history. Jerry's single platter of "You Can't Be True, Dear" made him, as they say on Broadway, "hotter than a pistol."

Six months ago the Wayne lad was ready to store away those golden pipes in mothballs. But one night while he was sitting in the Cafe Rouge, passing the time of night with Frankie Carle, the bandleader mentioned that his song publishing firm had just bought a new tune — an old Viennese melody by Hans Otton and rewritten by a Chicago organist, Ken Griffin. Griffin had recorded it as musical accompaniment for roller skating rinks.

There was only one thing keeping the record out of the best-seller lists, Carle said: It didn't have a vocal.

About four that morning, Jerry Wayne, Frankie Carle, and the rest of the entourage hied to a small recording studio on Broadway. Wayne, with earphones on, so that he could hear the organ accompaniment, listened to the tune, while other nightowls wrote the lyrics so he would have something to sing. Five weeks later "You Can't Be True, Dear" began to sweep the country. In one month, more than 750,000 pressings of Jerry Wayne's platter were sold. Now, because he did a favor for Frankie Carle, who needed a vocal to sell a song, Jerry Wayne is well on his way to earning that first million.

Frankie Laine apparently has ridden to fame and fortune on just one song, a ditty called "That's My Desire."

It's funny how things work out with songs. Tin Pan Alley figures the record will have sold a million copies by the first of the year. It was written in 1931 by Helmy Dress and Carol Loveday and sold to an outfit called Sterling Music. In 1936, Laine, singing in a small cafe in Cleveland, picked it up and started to sing it.

Later, in June of 1946, Laine was working at Billy Berg's on Vine street in Hollywood. On the bill was a small band combo headed by Milton DeLugg. DeLugg had a recording contract for Mercury and did two records with Laine as vocalist. The firm liked Laine's style and allowed him to put "That's My Desire" on wax.

Then things happened. A Philadelphia distributor ordered 35,000 records. Almost the same thing happened in other cities.

This year Laine got his first royalty check — $36,000 Mercury went looking for Sterling Music to pay that firm's royalties. Sterling had gone out of business and had been absorbed by Irving Mills. Mills had paid $1,200 for the Sterling catalogue. Mills never even knew he had "That's My Desire" in his possession. He has now peddled upwards of 200,000 copies of it and will make at least $80,000 from the song, which he never knew he owned.

NEW RUG BACKING

A new form of white liquid rubber is being used to paint rug backs. It will help anchor the loops of hooked rugs, preventing the tufts from pulling out; it will help prevent accidents by deskidding the rug; and it will make rugs lie flat, manufacturers say.

ROYALTY AT GARDEN GATE

LONDON — King George has tentatively chosen two July dates —the 8th and 22nd—for this summer's big garden parties at Buckingham Palace.

A member of the palace staff said between 5,000 and 6,000 invitations would be sent out for each.

The garden parties were revived last year after a long lapse because of the war. Intended by the King and Queen to take the place of more formal court functions of pre-war years, they are kept fairly informal, especially for the men, who are permitted to wear ordinary lounge suits.

USED YARN

Old yarn that you want to use for reknitting can be pepped up by winding it into a loose skein and dropping in lukewarm water. Leave it in the water for one minute, and hang it up to dry. You will find the yarn may reknit like new after this process.

In 1947, independent variety stores throughout the country did a total of $86,786,262 in notions business.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, July 8.

THE auguries are for a successful and happy state of affairs, in which surprising progress or contacts may be brought about by either unusual sagacity, bright ideas or even a sudden "hunch," curious urge or imaginative lead born of quickened emotional impulse or subtle inner prompting. Such deviation from regulation or orthodox tenets might create rather curious crises or strange associations, in business or private ties.

For the Birthday.

Those whose birthday it is, may have a year of strange or curious experiences in which the feelings and emotions hold dominion over logic, rationalization or conventional concepts. Emotions and impulses may overrule orthodox ideas and procedures, and with surprising benefits and unlooked for climax. Subtlety and intrigue of wholesome and practical application could prove exciting and gratifying as well, since an element of charm and mystery prevail.

A child born on this day, may be endowed with subtle and mysterious ways and means of gaining its ends, with ideals and imagination inciting its behavior rather than logic or realism.

Recent studies of roses show that blooms cut in the late afternoon—about 5 o'clock—keep longer than those cut in the early morning.

LOST 30 POUNDS WITH THIS HOME RECIPE

Rennel is the original grapefruit juice recipe for taking off ugly fat. It's simple just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennel. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves—if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennel—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry.

Here is what Mrs. C. Horwedel, 9618 Larnder Ave., Cleveland, Ohio, says about Rennel: "I have been taking your wonderful product for some time and plan to continue to take it as I have never felt better in my life and I am reducing the easy way. I have lost 30 pounds and am losing an average of 2 to 3 pounds a week." Don't be switched to another product, get genuine Rennel.

Five Nations Study Role In Red Fight

Ambassadors Hold Parley In U. S.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The United States opened talks Tuesday with five European powers about the possible role this country will play in support of their defense alliance against communism.

Ambassadors from four of the five Western European union nations — Britain, France, Belgium and the Netherlands—conferred with Under-Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett for 75 minutes. Canada's ambassador also participated in the discussion.

The "exploratory" talks represent the beginning of a new phase in U.S.-European relations. It represents an "exploratory step" down a road that—given congressional approval—may lead to the furnishing of U.S. military aid to Western Europe in the same way we now are furnishing economic aid.

After the 75-minute conference, the state department issued the following statement:

"The under-secretary of state . . . (today) . . . received the ambassadors of the United Kingdom, France, Canada and the Benelux countries for an informal and exploratory exchange of views concerning problems of common interest in relation to the Senate resolution of June 11, 1948.

(This is the "Vandenberg resolution" which placed the Senate on record in favor of U.S. support, in broad terms, of regional organizations which serve U.S. interests)

"These conversations are expected to continue for some time since they are purely exploratory. No information concerning the substance of the conversations will be made public until such time as decisions may be reached."

Those who conferred with Lovett were Sir Oliver Franks, British ambassador; Henri Bonnet, French ambassador; Hume Wrong, Canadian ambassador; Leste B. Pearson, Canadian under-secretary for external affairs; Baron Robert Silvercruys, Belgium ambassador, and Eelco N. Vah Kleffens, Netherlands ambassador.

The Luxembourg ambassador was unable to attend the first conference. Canada voluntarily joined the first meeting. She has expressed interest in creating an effective system of collective security under the United Nations, but only if the United States were a participant.

Susie Q. Smith . . . .

"Gee, I'm glad you made me come, Susie . . . tea dances are really okay!"

Two Thrown From Cruiser

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. —(AP)— Dr. R. D. Thomas of Gallipolis, O., and an unidentified companion were thrown into the Ohio river when their cruiser hit an obstruction in the stream.

They were rescued without injury.

The vessel, traveling at a fast rate of speed, continued without a pilot until it ran up on the shore.

Agriculture experts believe European farmers may get enough feed in '48 to build up their herds, thus easing the U. S. meat problem.

Auto Industry Now In High Gear

'48 Car, Truck Output Will Top 5 Million

By DAVID J. WILKIE, AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT—The car industry expects to build two and one half million more cars and trucks in the six months ahead.

The program is not only a hope but should be realized barring a major work stoppage in one of the "big three" companies of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler, or several of the smaller concerns.

The industry came through the year's first six months with an output of more than 2,500,000 vehicles. It achieved this volume despite a 17-day shutdown of Chrysler plants, stoppages in all GM plants of two weeks or more and the halting of Ford operations for model change-over.

The car manufacturers, of course, do not expect any more serious stoppages, although an increased production tempo probably would make it possible to absorb some minor suspensions. They are, always, concerned about their steel supply.

A number of strikes in supplier plants also contribute to the automobile makers' worries. But these worries have been present ever since the end of the war and production has been mounting steadily. Last year the factories turned out approximately 4,800,000 cars and trucks and they appear certain to reach 5,000,000 this year.

BACKLOG HIGHER

Yet the backlog of unfilled orders still is higher than at any time since the war. The figure 6,000,000 now is most commonly used in appraising the total of unfilled new car orders. But even if the figure is a bit high the factories are far behind their demand and the dealers generally have more orders on their books than they can fill for many months.

Latest word regarding new models is that the new 1949 Nash line will appear some time in October. The Nash plants probably will close late in August for the change-over. Best guesses are that the switch will take from three to four weeks.

One or two of the General Motors divisions probably also will be in 1949 model work by October.

Kaiser-Frazer also is doing some new model preliminary work. It is understood to be planning a new hard-top convertible, for presentation later this year.

Paper work on virtually all the 1949 models was completed long ago. In many instances the tools and dies are nearing readiness. The scheduled production of current models, however, is yet to be attained.

The car makers did produce a large volume of vehicles during the first six months of the year but the proportion of passenger cars was not as large as had been expected. So there will be some delay in bringing out 1949 cars until current model output catches up with the parts and sub-assemblies the industry has contracted for with its suppliers.

The 2,500,000 vehicles turned out between Jan. 1 and July 1 this year included about 1,800,000 passenger cars. About 125,000 of these were shipped to foreign markets.

TINY FOOD TABLET WORKS WONDERS FOR FAT WOMEN
Yes, the Kyron Plan, the new food tablet way to reduce, will help you lose up to 7 lbs. first 7 days—or you pay nothing. If your excess weight is caused by over-eating (and not glandular), the Kyron Plan is designed to act three ways: (1) to help appease your hunger, to cut down your appetite automatically, yet you never feel hungry; (2) includes nutritious elements to help maintain your energy while reducing; (3) recommends in package many foods often falsely labeled in ordinary diets as "fattening." Kyron is endorsed by a nationally known physician and further certified by a noted pharmacal laboratory. Insured by world's largest insurance company.
Make This 7-Day No-Risk Test
Eat Kyron Food Tablets for 7 days; check your weight before and after using Kyron. If you're not 100% delighted with results, return empty package and we'll refund money.

Red Feather Movie To Help Drive

Community Chest Picture Prepared

A colored movie of activities of Community Chest agencies is being prepared for pre-campaign publicity, Robert Fichter, public relations and education chairman of the Chest, said today.

The movie will be available by the last two weeks in September for all Mansfield service clubs, union and factory groups, women's clubs and other city organizations, Fichter said.

Paul Bush, a member of the Buckeye Hobby club and expert amateur photographer, is making the movies for the Chest, giving his time to the taking of the films.

The production, Fichter said, will be entitled "Red Feather Agencies in Action." Mrs. Jane Williams, executive secretary of the Chest, is cooperating with Fichter in arranging schedules, planning stories and writing scripts for the speakers.

The film is expected to be between 700 and 800 feet long and will show the actual story of each of the agencies.

So far, Fichter said, the Hospital Bureau, visiting Nurses' association, YWCA, Milk Fund, Friendly House and Girl Scouts have been filmed. The Boy Scouts, St. Vincent de Paul Society, Dental Clinic and the YMCA chapters are still to be taken. The Salvation Army's part of the film will be a story of the blind classes at Bert's Villa along Lake Erie and will be taken next week.

"The films will be ready as a prelude to the annual campaign, which will be held sometime in October," Mrs. Williams said. "Actual dates have not yet been determined."

Fichter has also been working on a year-round program for Community Chest education. So far 300 posters have been placed in the different industrial plants in the city, each plant receiving a series of four posters showing the different Red Feather activities.

LEADS ELKS—George I. Hall New York businessman, was elected to serve as grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at the 84th national convention of Elks which closes tomorrow in Philadelphia. O. I. Alverson, exalted ruler of the Mansfield lodge, is one of thousands of Elk delegates and members attending the four-day convention which will close following installation ceremonies for the new national officers.

Girl Scouts Attend Training School

Three senior Girl Scouts left Sunday to take a 12-day counselor and training course at Camp Ken-Jockety near Columbus. Upon completion of the course the girls will be qualified to serve as assistants at any Girl Scout camp.

The three are Betty Jane Garver of Troop 16, Donna Davis of Troop 19, and Barbara Bauer of Troop 5 Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs C. O Garver of 495 Lexington avenue, Donna's parents are Mr. and Mrs P. C Davis of Mansfield, R. D. 6, and Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Ivon Bauer, of 223 Saxon road.

Busy Summer Schedule Planned at Lakeside

Mansfielders who spend their vavcations at Lakeside or who attend some of the summer church assemblies there, will share in the diamond jubilee celebration of the famed Lake Erie resort this season.

Extensive plans are in the making to make Lakeside, always a resort center of cultural and spiritual activities during the summer, even a greater center, according to Russel J. Humbert, president of the Lakeside association trustees.

Biggest item on the jubilee celebration program is the raising of $150,000 which will be used for improvevments at the resort. Among the plans are housing for youth groups, further improvevment of the dock, enlargement of water and sewage systems, better recreational facilities.

The funds are to be solicited, according to Humbert, from friends of Lakeside in the following denominations: 1,000 gifts of $75 each or multiples thereof, or 75 gifts of $1,000 each or multiples thereof.

PAGEANT PLANNED

In celebration of the anniversary event, a Diamond Jubilee pageant will be prepared and presented on Friday, July 30, and Tuesday, Aug 3, under the direction of Rev. J. Allen Kestle of the Franklin Street Methodist church in Johnstown, Pa. The University Players from Ohio Wesleyan university will be presented at the auditorium from July 25 to Aug. 22. Nationally known speakers will be brought to Lakeside for the regular Chaplain Hours, including Dr. Ralph Sockman of New York City on Monday, July 19, to Friday, July 23.

Senator John W. Bricker will appear at Lakeside as teacher of the Bible class next Sunday. This class, a famous one in Lakeside church activities, meets each Sunday morning on the lawn in front of the Hotel Lakeside. For each Sunday of the summer a well-known American speaker will appear.

Both Mansfield Lutherans and Methodists join in annual summer conferences there. Members of Mansfield's Methodist churches held their northeast Ohio conference there June 22 to 28. This week the Lutherans from the city are attending the United Lutheran Summer school.

THE TRUTH ABOUT PIN-WORMS

Serious facts are revealed by recent medical reports. One out of every three people examined was found to be a victim of Pin-Worms—often without suspecting it! And this ugly infection can cause real distress if neglected.

So watch for the warning signs that may mean Pin-Worms—especially the aggravating rectal itch. Get JAYNE'S P-W right away. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially recognized and highly effective drug element. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets work in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.

Injuries Up Only Slightly In City

Traffic Accidents Show Sharp Increase

The number of traffic accidents and injuries in Mansfield are on the upswing.

Although there have been 745 accidents reported so far this year as compared with 639 during a similar period last year, the number of personal injuries has risen by only two, from 93 to 95, police department records showed today.

One person has been killed in the city this year as a result of a traffic accident. Two died last year in city traffic accidents.

Stricter enforcement of parking laws has resulted in the issuance of 6,922 tickets during the first six months of 1948. This is 1,706 ahead of the comparable six-month period in 1947.

Income from fines and costs and parking meter tickets totals $22,419 so far this year, $3,485 ahead of last year's pace.

The police department arrested 1,291 persons during the first six months of the year, 93 ahead of the six-month total last year.

Of all the arrests, more than half, or 628, were for intoxication, 221 for violating road and driving laws and 42 for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of alcohol.

500 Expected at K. of C. Dance

Members of the Mansfield Knights of Columbus, their families and friends will hold their annual mid-summer dance at the K. of C. home Saturday evening.

From 450 to 500 persons are expected to dance to the music of Nels Blocker from 9:30 to 12:30. Grand Knight James F. Carrigan will officiate and John Osgar and Ralph LeMunyon will serve as program chairmen at the dance.

Museum Director Takes Own Life

DAVENPORT, Ia. —(AP)— After apparently reading a book titled "The Man Who Wouldn't Hang," John H. Bailey, 39, director of the Davenport public museum, hanged himself, Coroner Frank Keppy reported Tuesday.

The coroner said Bailey was wearing a rubber swimming cap and a gas mask when the body was found in the museum about midnight last night.

Sleepwalker Falls In Flue

BOSTON —(AP)— Paul Lawless 26, went sleep walking right up to his armpits in a chimney.

Summoned by neighbors, police found him wedged in the flue last night. They quoted him as saying he was sleeping on the roof of his home and did not wake up until he toppled in the chimney.

Lawless' plight was discovered by a neighbor who heard bricks falling. City hospital attaches said he apparently suffered no injuries.

Communists Lose Ground

WASHINGTON —(U.P.)—For the first time since the end of World War II, communism today appears to be losing ground in Western Europe, Scandinavia, the Western Hemisphere, the Middle East, and Africa.

But it is beginning to show clear signs of renewed activity in Asia. And despite the current Tito-cominform dispute, the situation is essentially unchanged in Eastern Europe.

These are the important conclusions drawn from a United Press survey of present and potential strength of communism throughout the world as viewed by government departments and intelligence agencies.

No responsible government official will say that the East-West struggle has been won by the non-communist powers. But the first signs of optimism are developing.

The consensus is that communist activities in nearly all parts of Asia are being stepped-up in direct proportion to apparent loss of strength elsewhere.

BOY HAS POLIO

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Gary Raybuck, 13, of nearby Willoughby was the 15th polio victim in the Cleveland area today. He was stricken late Monday and hosuitalized here.
